SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES
 LLC, a Delaware Limited Liability
 Company; and DOES 1 through 50,
 inclusive,

Defendant.

Case No. 07 CV 2178 W (AJB)

DECLARATION OF BRANDON R.
 McKELVEY IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR A
 FEDERAL RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE 26(c)

Date: May 16, 2008
Time: 10:00 a.m.
Courtroom: A – First Floor
Judge: Hon. Anthony J. Battaglia

I, Brandon R. McKelvey, declare:

1. I am an attorney at law licensed to practice in the state of California with the firm Seyfarth Shaw LLP, attorneys of record for defendant Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC (“Spherion”). I state the following facts based on my personal knowledge. If called upon, I could and would testify competently to the matters set forth herein.

2. On September 25, 2007, plaintiff filed a class-action complaint seeking to represent all “current and former California-based, hourly non-exempt employees” employed by Spherion from September 25, 2003 to the present. The complaint alleged state-wide violations of California’s wage-and-hour laws related primarily to the payment of overtime, business expenses, and the provision for meals and rest periods. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the complaint.

1           3.       On December 19, 2007, plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC")
2 making the same allegations while adding a cause of action for penalties under the California
3 Labor Code Private Attorney General Act of 2004. Plaintiff's FAC estimates that there are 4 50,000 members in the proposed class. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy
5 of plaintiff's FAC.

6           4.       On February 5, 2008, at the Early Neutral Evaluation conference, counsel for the 7 parties met informally and discussed discovery. At that time, counsel for Spherion expressed the 8 company's position that class-wide discovery was premature. Counsel for plaintiff indicated that 9 plaintiff would proceed with class-wide discovery. No resolution was reached and the Court
10 issued its Order Following Early Neutral Evaluation Conference specifying dates by which the 11 parties' joint discovery plan was to be submitted. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a true and 12 correct copy of the Order Following Early Neutral Evaluation Conference dated February 7, 13 2008.

14           5.       On February 8, 2008, plaintiff served requests for production of documents
15 seeking (among other things) state-wide discovery of "any and all documents" from January 16 2003 to the present "pertaining to" policies and procedures, training manuals, employee 17 handbooks, meal-and-rest-period compliance and studies, and other employment information for 18 all non-exempt California former and current employees. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true
19 and correct copy of Plaintiff's Request for Production of Documents (Set One).

20           6.       On February 8, 2008, plaintiff also served interrogatories seeking (among other 21 things) state-wide information including the names, addresses, employment dates, job titles, and 22 job descriptions of all Spherion's California employees from September 2003 to the present.
23 The interrogatories also requested detailed information about various policies for all non-exempt
24 employees in California from September 2003 to the present. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a
25 true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Interrogatories (Set One).

26           7.       On February 29, 2008, in accordance with the Order Following the Early Neutral
27 Evaluation Conference, the parties met and conferred via telephone regarding discovery issues
28 and attempted to resolve their discovery disputes. At that time, counsel agreed there was a

1 dispute as to the nature and scope of class discovery that could not be resolved between the
2 parties, and the dispute would have to be brought to the attention of the magistrate. The parties
3 agreed that Spherion would respond to Special Interrogatory Number 1 and Request for 4 Production of Documents, Number 3 by March 12, 2008. The due date for the remainder of the 5 responses to plaintiff's written discovery was extended to April 2, 2008. Attached hereto as 6 Exhibit F is a true and correct copy of an e-mail from plaintiff's counsel memorializing the 7 agreement.

8 8. On March 10, 2008, the parties' Joint Discovery Plan was submitted to the court.
9 In the Joint Discovery Plan, the parties brought the class discovery dispute to the magistrate's
10 attention and briefly outlined their respective positions on the issue. Attached hereto as Exhibit
11 G is a true and correct copy of the Joint Motion Regarding Parties' Discovery Plan.

12 9. On March 12, 2008, Spherion timely served responses to Request for Production
13 of Documents, Number 3. Attached hereto as Exhibit H is a true and correct copy of Spherion
14 Atlantic Enterprises, LLC's Response to Plaintiff's Requests for Production of Documents (Set 15 One), Request Number 3.

16 10. On March 12, 2008, Spherion timely served responses to Special Interrogatory
17 Number 1. Attached hereto as Exhibit I is a true and correct copy of Spherion Atlantic
18 Enterprises, LLC's Response to Plaintiff's Interrogatories (Set One), Interrogatory No. 1.

19 11. On March 19, 2008, plaintiff sent me a meet-and-confer letter stating plaintiff's
20 position on state-wide class discovery. Attached hereto as Exhibit J is a true and correct copy of 21 the meet-and-confer letter sent by David A. Huch and dated March 19, 2008.

22 12. On March 21, 2008, a case management conference was held with the Honorable
23 Magistrate Anthony Battaglia. At the conference, the dispute between the parties regarding 24 state-wide discovery was discussed. The parties agreed that no further meet and confer was 25 necessary, and the issue was ripe for the magistrate's review. The Court issued an order setting a 26 hearing on defendant's motion for protective order for May 16, 2008. Attached hereto as 27 Exhibit K is a true and correct copy of the Order Following Case Management Conference.
28

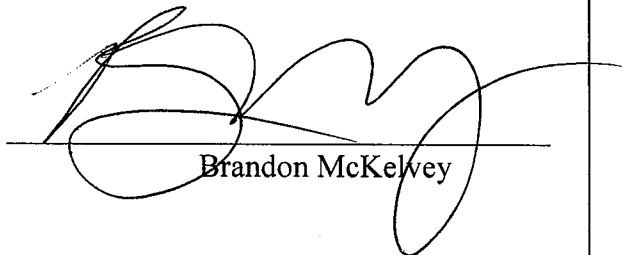

1           13.     Following the Case Management Conference, I confirmed with plaintiff's
2 counsel, David A. Huch, that Spherion would not be responding to his meet-and-confer letter
3 because a hearing on the Motion for Protective Order was scheduled by the court. Plaintiff's
4 counsel concurred. Attached hereto as Exhibit L is a true and correct copy of the e-mails
5 exchanged between counsel.

6           14.     On April 2, 2008, Spherion timely served responses to the remainder of Plaintiff's
7 Request for Production of Documents, per the agreement previously reached with plaintiff's
8 counsel. Attached hereto as Exhibit M is a true and correct copy of Spherion Atlantic 9 Enterprises, LLC's Response to Plaintiff's Request for Production of Documents (Set One).

10          15.     On April 2, 2008, Spherion timely served responses to the remainder of Plaintiff's
11 Interrogatories, per the agreement previously reached with plaintiff's counsel. Attached hereto
12 as Exhibit N is a true and correct copy of Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC's Response to 13 Plaintiff's Interrogatories (Set One).

14           I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the 15 foregoing is true and correct. Executed on April 18, 2008, at Sacramento, California.

Plaintiff, PHILIP J. MARTINET, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated, and on behalf of the general public, alleges causes of action against defendants, and each of them, as follows:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS AND IDENTIFICATION OF THE PARTIES

1. Plaintiff, PHILIP J. MARTINET ("PLAINTIFF"), is a competent adult who resides in the City of San Diego, County of San Diego, State of California. From his date of hire, at or around July 1, 2007 to until his date of separation of employment at or around August 18, 2007, PLAINTIFF was employed as a non-exempt, hourly employee by Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC in the County of San Diego, State of California.

2. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes that Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal place of business in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC was doing business in the State of California through its ownership and operation of numerous recruiting and staffing offices throughout California, as well as recruiting and employing thousands of California employees. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all relevant times, SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC employed PLAINTIFF and exercised control over PLAINTIFF's wages, hours and working conditions.

1           3.     PLAINTIFF does not know the true names and capacities of Defendants sued herein
2 as DOES 1 through 50, inclusive, and will amend this Complaint to set forth the true names and
3 capacities of said defendants, along with the appropriate charging allegations when the same have
4 been ascertained.

5           4.     PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that each of the
6 fictitiously named defendants was in some manner legally responsible for the actionable and
7 unlawful actions, policies and practices as alleged herein. PLAINTIFF will amend this Complaint
8 to set forth the true names and capacities of said defendants, along with the appropriate charging
9 allegations when the same have been ascertained.

10          5.     PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times
11 mentioned herein, all Defendants, and each of them, were acting as the agent and/or employee of 12 each remaining co-defendant, and were acting with permission and consent of each other, and
13 within the course and scope of said agency and/or employment. PLAINTIFF is further informed
14 and believes that each co-defendant, by and through its officers, directors or managing agents
15 ratified, authorized and approved, expressly or implicitly, all of the conduct alleged herein.

16          6.     When in this Complaint reference is made to any act of the "DEFENDANT," such 17 shall be deemed to mean that officers, directors, agents, employees, or representatives of the 18 Defendants named in this lawsuit committed or authorized such acts, or failed and omitted to 19 adequately supervise or properly control or direct their employees while engaged in the 20 management, direction, operation or control of the affairs of the Defendants and did so while
21 acting within the scope of their employment or agency.

22          7.     When in this Complaint reference is made to any act by a "DEFENDANT" or
23 "Defendants" or "co-defendants," such allegations and reference shall also be deemed to mean the

25                   JURISDICTION AND VENUE

26          8.     PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
27 Paragraphs.

1           9.     This Court has jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein pursuant to
2 California Constitution, Article VI, Sec. 10, because this case is a cause not given by statute to 3 other trial courts.

4           10.    This Court has jurisdiction over DEFENDANT because each co-defendant is a
5 corporation, limited liability company or other business entity authorized to do business in the 6 State of California and registered with the California Secretary of State to do sufficient business
7 with sufficient minimum contacts in California, and/or otherwise intentionally avail itself of the 8 California market through the ownership and operation of recruiting and staffing offices
9 throughout the State of California, to render the exercise of jurisdiction by the California courts
10 consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

11           11.    Venue as to each Defendant is proper in this judicial district, pursuant to Code of 12 Civil Procedure § 395. DEFENDANT'S actionable and unlawful employment practices as to 13 PLAINTIFF occurred in the County of San Diego, State of California.

14           12.    The Class Action Fairness Act [28 U.S.C.S. § 1332(d)] ("CAFA") does not apply to 15 the present class action Complaint. The present Complaint is brought solely on behalf of 16 DEFENDANT'S California-based employees. As a result, PLAINTIFF is informed and believes,
17 and thereon alleges, that under subsection (d)(4) of CAFA, a federal district court "shall decline to 18 exercise jurisdiction" of the present matter due to the following: greater than two-thirds of the 19 members of all proposed plaintiff class in the aggregate are citizens of the State of California; and 20 all Defendants are Defendants from whom significant relief is sought by members of the plaintiff
21 class, whose alleged conduct forms a significant basis for the claims asserted by the proposed 22 plaintiff class, and who are citizens of the State of California; and the principal injuries resulting 23 from the alleged conduct or any related conduct of each defendant were incurred in the State of 24 California; and two-thirds or more of the members of all proposed plaintiff classes in the 25 aggregate, and the primary defendants, are citizens of the State of California.

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY BACKGROUND

A. California Labor Code Sections 201 through 203

13. California Labor Code Section 201 requires an employer who discharges an employee to pay compensation due and owing said employee immediately upon discharge. California Labor Code Section 202 requires an employer to promptly pay compensation due and owing an employee within 72 hours of that employee's separation of employment by resignation. California Labor Code Section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay compensation promptly upon discharge or resignation as required pursuant to California Labor Code Sections 201 and 202, said employer is liable to said employee for waiting time penalties.

B. California Labor Code Sections 218, 218.5 & 218.6

14. Labor Code Section 218 provides a private right of action for employees to sue directly for any wages or penalty due to him/her under this article of the Labor Code. Labor Code Sections 218.5 and 218.6 provide for the recovery of attorneys' fees, costs and pre-judgment interest to the prevailing party in the event of an action to recover wages brought by private individuals.

C. California Labor Code Section 221

15. Labor Code Section 221 prohibits an employer from receiving from an employee any wage paid by the employer to the employee either by unauthorized deductions of employees' wages or recovery after payment of the wage. In referring to "wages" paid, Section 221 prohibits an employer from collecting or receiving wages "that have already been earned by performance of agreed-upon requirements." (Steinhebel v. Los Angeles Times Communications, (2005) 126 Cal.App.4th 696, 707.)

D. California Labor Code Section 226

16. Labor Code Section 226 requires an employer to keep accurate, itemized pay statements. Under California law, the precise, actual number of hours and minutes worked by a non-exempt employee must be accurately itemized on each pay statement. If an employer knowingly and intentionally fails to comply with this section, it is liable for the greater of all actual

1 damages or $50 for the initial pay period in which a violation occurs and $100 per employee for
2 each violation in a subsequent pay period, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per
3 employee.

4 E. California Labor Code Section 226.7

5 17. Labor Code Section 226.7 provides that no employer shall require any non-exempt
6 employee to work during any meal or rest period mandated by an applicable order of the Industrial
7 Welfare Commission. This section also provides that if an employer fails to provide a non-exempt
8 employee a 30 minute meal period and/or 10 minute rest periods in accordance with an applicable
9 order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, the employer shall pay the employee one additional
10 hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each work day that the meal period
11 was not provided and one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for 12 each work day that a rest period is not provided.

13 F. California Labor Code Section 510

14 18. Labor Code Section 510 requires the payment of overtime to nonexempt employees
15 at the rate of 1 ½ times their regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours
16 per day and all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per workweek, and payment of overtime
17 to nonexempt employees at the rate of two times the regular rate of pay for all hours in excess of 18 twelve (12) hours per day and all hours worked excess of eight hours on the seventh day worked in 19 any work week.

20 G. California Labor Code Section 512

21 19. Labor Code Section 512 provides that an employer may not employ an employee
22 for a work period of more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal
23 period of not less than 30 minutes, except that if the total work period per day of the employee is
24 no more than six hours, the meal period may be waived by mutual consent of both the employer
25 and employee. An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours
26 per day without providing the employee with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes,
27 except that if the total hours worked is no more than 12 hours, the second meal period may be
28

1 waived by mutual consent of the employer and the employee only if the first meal period was not
2 waived.

3 H. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001 (Title 8, California Code of Regulations, § 11040)

4 20. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001 (and its predecessors), governing "Professional,
5 Technical, Clerical, Mechanical and Similar Occupations," is the applicable wage order in this
6 action. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001, which has been enacted into California's regulatory law as
7 Title 8, California Code of Regulations, § 11040, provides that employers must keep accurate time
8 records showing when employees begin and end each meal period [subsection (7)(A)(3)]. In
9 addition, the wage order provides that every employer shall permit all employees to take rest
10 periods in the middle of each work period. The authorized rest period is to be based on the total
11 hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes net rest time per four (4) hours or major fraction
12 thereof. [subsection (12)(A)]. The regulation also defines an "employer" as "any person as defined
13 in Section 18 of the Labor Code, who directly or indirectly, or through an agent or any other
14 person, employs or exercises control over the wages, hours, or working conditions of any person."

15 I. California Business & Professions Code Section 17200 et seq.

16 21. California Business & Professions Code § 17200 defines unfair competition to 17 include "unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business practices."

18 22. California Business & Professions Code § 17203 provides that "[t]he court may 19 make such orders or judgments...as may be necessary to prevent the use or employment by any
20 person of any practice which constitutes unfair competition, as defined in this chapter, or as may be
21 necessary to restore any person in interest any money or property, real or personal, which may 22 have been acquired by means of unfair competition."

23 23. California Business & Professions Code § 17204 provides for suits for injunctive
24 relief, restitution and disgorgement of profits.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

24. PLAINTIFF brings the First through Eighth Causes of Action of this suit as a class action pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 382, on behalf of all individuals employed by DEFENDANT in the State of California in hourly, non-exempt positions during the relevant time period. This action is also brought for the benefit of the general public.

25. The putative classes PLAINTIFF will seek to certify are currently composed of and defined as follows:

- a. All current and former California-based, hourly, non-exempt employees of Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC who were employed by SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC between September 25, 2003 and the present (hereinafter, "the CLASS").
- b. All former California-based, hourly, non-exempt employees of Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC who separated their employment with SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC between September 25, 2004 and the present (hereinafter, "the SUBCLASS.")

26. Numerosity: The potential quantity of members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS as defined is so numerous that joinder of all members would be unfeasible and unpractical. The disposition of their claims through this class action will benefit both the parties and this Court. The quantity of members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS is currently unknown to PLAINTIFF; however, it is estimated that there are at least 50,000 members in the CLASS and at least 10,000 members in the SUBCLASS. The quantity and identity of such membership is readily ascertainable via inspection of DEFENDANT'S records.

27. Typicality: The claims of PLAINTIFF are typical of the claims of all members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS mentioned herein because all members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS sustained injuries and damages arising out of DEFENDANT'S common course of

1 conduct in violation of California wage and hour law, and the injuries and damages of all members
2 of the CLASS and SUBCLASS were caused by DEFENDANT'S wrongful conduct in violation of
3 California statutory and regulatory law, as alleged herein.

4 28. Adequacy: PLAINTIFF is an adequate representative of the CLASS and
5 SUBCLASS and will fairly protect the interests of the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS,
6 and has no interests antagonistic to the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS, and will
7 vigorously pursue this suit via attorneys who are competent, skilled and experienced in litigating
8 matters of this type.

9 29. Superiority. The nature of this action and the nature of the laws available to
10 PLAINTIFF make the use of the class action format a particularly effective and appropriate
11 procedure to afford relief to PLAINTIFF for the wrongs alleged herein:

- 12 a. This case involves large corporate Defendants and a large number of 13 individual class members with common issues of law and fact. According to 14 DEFENDANT'S website, www.spherion.com, DEFENDANT employs
15 "[a]pproximately 300,000" employees "making Spherion one of the top
16 employers in North America;"
- 17 b. If each individual member of the CLASS and SUBCLASS were required to 18 file an individual lawsuit, the large corporate Defendant would necessarily 19 gain an unconscionable advantage because DEFENDANT would be able to 20 exploit and overwhelm the limited resources of each member of the CLASS
21 and SUBCLASS with DEFENDANT'S vastly superior financial and legal 22 resources.
- 23 c. Requiring each individual member of the CLASS and SUBCLASS to pursue
24 an individual remedy would also discourage the assertion of lawful claims
25 by the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS who would be disinclined
26 to pursue an action against DEFENDANT because of an appreciable and 27

justifiable fear of retaliation and permanent damage to their lives, careers and well being;

- d. Proof of a common business practice or factual pattern, of which the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS experienced, is representative of the CLASS and SUBCLASS herein and will establish the right of each of the members of CLASS and SUBCLASS to recover on the causes of action alleged herein;
- e. The prosecution of separate actions by the individual members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS, even if possible, would create a substantial risk of inconsistent and varying verdicts or adjudications with respect to the individual members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS against DEFENDANT, which would establish potentially incompatible standards of conduct for DEFENDANT and/or legal determinations with respect to individual members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS.

30. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Fact and Law:

There are common questions of fact and law as to the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS, which predominate over questions affecting only individual members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS including, without limitation:

- a. Whether the members of the CLASS were subjected to unauthorized and illegal deduction of their earned wages;
- b. Whether the members of the CLASS were expected, required, permitted and/or suffered to work overtime hours on a regular basis;
- c. Whether the members of the CLASS were paid overtime compensation in accordance with California statutory and regulatory law;
- d. Whether the members of the CLASS were provided with 30-minute meal breaks;
- e. Whether DEFENDANT has failed to keep accurate time records showing

- 1 when members of the CLASS begin and end each meal break;
- 2 f. Whether the members of the CLASS were provided with 10-minute rest
- 3 periods;
- 4 g. Whether the members of the SUBCLASS received all compensation owed
- 5 and due at the time of their separation of employment;
- 6 h. Whether the members of the SUBCLASS are entitled to seek recovery of
- 7 penalties pursuant to Labor Code § 203;
- 8 i. Whether DEFEDANT properly itemized the wage statements of the
- 9 members of the CLASS;
- 10 j. Whether DEFENDANT'S conduct constituted unfair or unlawful business
- 11 practices within the meaning of Business & Professions Code § 17200 et
- 12 seq.;
- 13 k. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
- 14 compensatory damages, and if so, the means of measuring such damages;
- 15 l. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
- 16 injunctive relief;
- 17 m. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
- 18 restitution;
- 19 n. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
- 20 disgorgement of profits;
- 21 o. Whether DEFENDANT is liable for pre-judgment interest; and
- 22 p. Whether DEFENDANT is liable for attorneys' fees and costs.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Unlawful Deductions of Wages Earned in Violation of California Labor Code Sections 204 & 221)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

31. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

32. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant times DEFENDANT has continuously engaged in the regular practice of deducting, collecting and/or receiving wages earned by members of the and CLASS. As a result, members of the CLASS have not been paid all wages earned in performing work for DEFENDANT.

33. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT was not authorized, required nor empowered to deduct, collect and/or receive wages from the members of the CLASS pursuant to state or federal law, nor express authorization of the members of the and CLASS, in writing, to cover insurance premiums, hospital or medical dues, nor pursuant to an enforceable and lawful wage agreement or statute.

34. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT'S regular practice of deducting, collecting and/or receiving wages earned by the members of the CLASS violates California Labor Code sections 204 and 221.

35. As a result of the actions of DEFENDANT, in deducting, collecting and/or receiving wages earned by the members of the CLASS, members of the CLASS were damaged by not receiving wages that they should have received. Members of the CLASS are therefore entitled to compensation in an amount to be proven at trial for unpaid wages, pre-judgment interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code sections 218, 218.5 & 218.6.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

California Labor Code Sections 510 & 1194)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

36. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

37. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant times DEFENDANT has continuously engaged in the regular practice of requiring, suffering or permitting members of the CLASS to work hours in excess of eight hours per day and/or 40 hours per week.

38. The laws of the State of California require employers, such as DEFENDANT, to pay overtime compensation to all non-exempt employees. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that members of the CLASS are not exempt from overtime pay requirements under California law. PLAINTIFF further alleges that all members of the CLASS have been classified by DEFENDANT as non-exempt, hourly employees.

39. As a result of the actions of DEFENDANT in failing and/or refusing to pay overtime compensation, members of the CLASS were damaged by not receiving overtime compensation which they should have received, but did not receive. Members of the CLASS are therefore entitled to compensation in an amount to be proven at trial for unpaid overtime, pre-judgment interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code section 1194.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Failure to Provide 30-Minute Employee Meal Period)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

40. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

41. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that within each of the four years prior to the commencement of this action, DEFENDANT promulgated and enforced policies under which members of the CLASS regularly worked more than five hours in a day without being provided with a thirty-minute meal period during which members of the CLASS

1 were relieved of all of their respective work duties. DEFENDANT also promulgated and enforced
 2 policies under which members of the and CLASS regularly worked more than ten hours in a day
 3 without being provided with a second thirty-minute meal period during which members of the 4 CLASS were relieved of all of their respective work duties.

5 42. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant
 6 times, DEFENDANT has failed to maintain accurate records of when members of the CLASS
 7 begin and end each meal period.

8 43. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that members of the 9 CLASS are entitled to additional wages pursuant to California Labor Code Section 226.7 for each
 10 work shift lasting more than five hours during which members of the CLASS were not provided
 11 with one or more thirty minute meal periods.

12 44. As a result of DEFENDANT'S conduct as alleged herein, members of the CLASS
 13 have suffered harm and monetary damages, in an amount to be ascertained at trial.

14 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

15 (Failure to Allow 10-Minute Employee Rest Periods)

16 (On Behalf of the CLASS)

17 45. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
 18 Paragraphs.

19 46. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that within each of the 20 four years prior to the commencement of this action, DEFENDANT promulgated and enforced
 21 policies under which members of the CLASS regularly worked more than four hours per day 22 without being allowed one or more paid rest periods of at least ten minutes during which the 23 members of the CLASS were relieved of all of their respective work duties.

24 47. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that members of the
 25 CLASS are entitled to additional wages pursuant to California Labor Code Section 226.7 for each
 26 four hour work period during which members of the CLASS were not provided with one or more 27 ten minute rest periods.

1           48. As a result of DEFENDANT'S conduct as alleged herein, members of the CLASS
2 have suffered harm and monetary damages, in an amount to be ascertained at trial.

3                           FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

4                           (Failure to Reimburse for Reasonable Business Expenses in Violation of 5 Labor Code § 2802; Cal. Code Regs., Title 8 § 11040 sections 8 & 9)

6                           (On Behalf of the CLASS)

7           49. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
8 Paragraphs.

9           50. Labor Code Section 2802 provides that an employer shall indemnify his or her
10 employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence
11 of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer.
12 Title 8 CCR § 11010(8) provides that "No employer shall make any deduction from the wage or 13 require any reimbursement from an employee for any cash shortage, breakage, or loss of 14 equipment, unless it can be shown that the shortage, breakage, or loss is caused by a dishonest or 15 willful act, or by the gross negligence of the employee."

16           51. During the applicable statutory period, PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS
17 incurred necessary expenditures and losses in direct consequence of the discharge of their
18 employment duties and their obedience to the directions of DEFENDANT, including but not
19 limited to travel expenses, gas charges, mileage, cell phone charges, laptop computer usage, and 20 other similar expenditures.

21           52. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes that pursuant to California Labor Code §
22 2802 and Title 8 CCR § 11040(8) & (9), PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS are entitled
23 to recover their un-reimbursed expenditures and losses, interest thereon and attorneys' fees and 24 costs, in amounts to be proven at trial.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Failure to Provide Properly Itemized Wage Statements in Violation of Labor Code §§ 226 and 226.3; Cal. Code Regs., Title 8 § 11040 section 7)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

53. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

54. Labor Code Section 226 requires an employer to keep accurate, itemized pay statements. Under California law, gross wages earned, the precise, actual number of hours and minutes worked by a non-exempt employee, all deductions, net wages earned, inclusive dates of the pay period, the name of the employee, the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period must be accurately itemized on each pay statement. Furthermore, the deductions made from payment of wages must be recorded, properly dated, and a copy of the statement or a record of the deductions shall be kept on file by the employer for at least three years at the place of employment or at a central location within the State of California.

55. During the applicable statutory period, DEFENDANT has routinely failed to provide the members of the CLASS, at the time of each payment of wages, an itemized statement in writing showing the requirements of Labor Code § 226 and section 7 of Title 8 CCR § 11040. DEFENDANT'S failure to provide itemized statements to the members of the CLASS has been knowing and intentional and was in clear violation of Labor Code § 226(a). In direct violation of California law, DEFENDANT has refused to provide the members of the CLASS with any record or documentation of expenses deducted from such employees' earnings.

56. The members of the CLASS have suffered injuries as a result of the knowing and intentional failure of DEFENDANT to comply with Labor Code § 226(a) and Title 8 CCR § 11040(7), in that DEFENDANT'S failure to provide Class Members with an itemized wage statement made it impossible for the members of the CLASS to be aware that unlawful deductions were being made from their earnings, that they were not being paid all wages earned, and that in

2 rates.

3 57. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that DEFENDANT'S
4 knowing and intentional failure to furnish the members of the CLASS with itemized wage
5 statements, as alleged above, violated Labor Code § 226(a), as well as Title 8 CCR § 11040(7).
6 Labor Code § 226(e) entitles PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS to recover the greater of
7 their actual damages caused by DEFENDANT'S violations, or $50 per employee for the initial pay
8 period in which the violation occurred, and $100 per employee for each violation in subsequent
9 pay periods, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee.

10 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 (Failure to Pay Compensation at the Time of Termination in Violation of 12 California Labor Code Sections 201-203)

13 (On Behalf of the SUBCLASS)

14 58. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
15 Paragraphs.

16 59. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT has 17 willfully failed and have refused to pay all compensation and wages due to members of the 18 members of the SUBCLASS upon their separation of employment.

19 60. DEFENDANT'S failure to timely pay compensation and wages to members of the 20 members of the SUBCLASS at the time of their separation of employment is willful. As a result,
21 DEFENDANT is liable to members of the members of the SUBCLASS for waiting time penalties
22 under California Labor Code Section 203 in an amount to be ascertained at trial.

(Unlawful and Unfair Business Practices: Business & Professions Code §§ 17200 et seq.)

(On behalf of PLAINTIFF, the CLASS, and the General Public)

61. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

62. Within each of the four years prior to the commencement of this action, PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that DEFENDANT has unlawfully failed to pay hourly wages and overtime wages to Class Members, including Plaintiff, in violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 221 510, 1194, 1197 and 1197.1; unlawfully failed to provide meal breaks, or compensation in lieu thereof, to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512; unlawfully failed to provide rest periods, or compensation in lieu thereof, to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor Code § 226.7; unlawfully failed to reimburse Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, for reasonable business expenditures in violation of Labor Code § 2802; and unlawfully failed to provide properly itemized wage statements to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor Code § 226.

63. By committing the alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint, DEFENDANT has engaged, and continue to engage, in unlawful and/or unfair business practices within the meaning of California Business & Professions Code § 17200 et seq.

64. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that as a result of DEFENDANT'S alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint, DEFENDANT has unlawfully earned profits from such unlawful and/or unfair business practices.

65. A request for injunctive relief, restitution and for the disgorgement of unlawfully earned profits is specifically authorized by California Business & Professions Code § 17200 et seq. Thus, on behalf of members of the CLASS, and on behalf of the general public, PLAINTIFF seeks injunctive relief, restitution (to members of the CLASS) of all unlawfully withheld funds, and the disgorgement of all unlawfully earned profits (to members of the CLASS) obtained by DEFENDANT as a result of DEFENDANT'S alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint.

66. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that unless restrained and ordered to pay restitution and disgorge profits derived from said unfair and unlawful business practices, DEFENDANT will continue to engage in the alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, PLAINTIFF, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated, and on behalf of the general public, prays for judgment as follows:

1. That the Court issue an Order certifying the CLASS and SUBCLASS, appointing the named PLAINTIFF as representative of all others similarly situated and appointing the law firm(s) representing the named PLAINTIFF as counsel for members of the CLASS;

As to the First Cause of Action for Unlawfully Deducted Wages on Behalf of the CLASS

2. For compensatory damages according to proof, including all wages due and owing as a result of DEFENDANT'S unlawful deduction of wages earned by members of the CLASS;

3. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code Section 218.6;

4. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise permitted by statute;

5. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

As to the Second Cause of Action for Overtime Compensation on Behalf of the CLASS

6. For compensatory damages according to proof, including all wages due and owing as a result of DEFENDANT'S failure to pay overtime compensation to members of the CLASS;

7. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code Section 1194;

8. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 1194, or as otherwise permitted by statute;

9. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

1 As to the Third Cause of Action for Failure to Allow 30-Minute Employee Meal Periods on Behalf
2 of the CLASS

3 10. For compensatory damages in the form of additional wages equal to one hour's
4 regular pay for each member of the CLASS for each work shift in which such member worked
5 more than five hours without being permitted to take the required meal period;

6 11. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
7 Labor Code Section 218.6;

8 12. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
9 permitted by statute;

10 13. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

11 As to the Fourth Cause of Action for Failure to Allow 10-Minute Employee Rest Periods on Behalf
12 of the CLASS

13 14. For compensatory damages in the form of additional wages equal to one hour's
14 regular pay for each member of the CLASS for each four hour work period in which such member
15 worked without being permitted to a paid rest period;

16 15. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
17 Labor Code Section 218.6;

18 16. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
19 permitted by statute;

20 17. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

21 As to the Fifth Cause of Action for Indemnification of Employees for Expenditures or Losses in
22 Discharge of Duties or Obedience to Directions on Behalf of the CLASS

23 18. For compensatory damages according to proof, including but not limited to 24 expenditures, losses, lost wages, earnings and other employee benefits and all other sums of money
25 owed to each member of the CLASS incurred during the proper discharge of their duties for
26 DEFENDANT, or during the course and scope of their employment for DEFENDANT.

27 19. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289;

20. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code § 2802 or as otherwise permitted by statute;

21. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

As to the Sixth Cause of Action for Improperly Itemized Wage Statements on Behalf of the CLASS

22. For compensatory damages or minimum statutory damages of $50 for the first violation and $100 for each subsequent violation pursuant to Labor Code Section 226(e);

23. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code Section 226(e);

24. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 226(e) or as otherwise permitted by statute;

25. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

As to the Seventh Cause of Action for Waiting Time Penalties on Behalf of the SUBCLASS

26. For statutory penalties pursuant to Labor Code Section 203;

27. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code Section 218.6;

28. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise permitted by statute;

29. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

As to the Eighth Cause of Action for Unlawful and Unfair Business Practices on Behalf of the CLASS and the General Public

30. For an Order requiring DEFENDANT to identify each of the members of the CLASS by name, home address and home telephone number;

31. For an Order compelling DEFENDANT to restore unpaid wages, expenditures, losses, income and other related benefits (in the form of restitution) to each of the members of the CLASS who have suffered as a result of DEFENDANT'S unlawful and unfair business practices alleged herein;

1       32. For an order compelling DEFENDANT to disgorge and pay over to each of the
2 members of the CLASS all profits and savings resulting from DEFENDANT'S unlawful and
3 unfair business practices alleged herein;

4       33. For issuance of a permanent injunction enjoining DEFENDANT from continuing to
5 engage in the unlawful and unfair business practices alleged herein;

6       34. For interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code
7 Section 204.6;

8       35. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Sections 218.5, 1194 & 2802,
9 Code of Civil Procedure Section 1021.5 and as otherwise permitted by statute;

10       36. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF:*(LO ESTÁ DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE):

PHILIP J. MARTINET, Individually, On Behalf of All Others Similarly Situated, and on Behalf of the General Public

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association.

Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/espanol/), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/espanol/) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers.

If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases.

In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

Plaintiff, PHILIP J. MARTINET, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated, and on behalf of the general public, alleges causes of action against defendants, and each of them, as follows:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS AND IDENTIFICATION OF THE PARTIES

1. Plaintiff, PHILIP J. MARTINET ("PLAINTIFF"), is a competent adult who resides in the City of San Diego, County of San Diego, State of California. From his date of hire, at or around July 1, 2007 to until his date of separation of employment at or around August 18, 2007, PLAINTIFF was employed as a non-exempt, hourly employee by Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC in the County of San Diego, State of California.

2. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes that Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal place of business in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC was doing business in the State of California through its ownership and operation of numerous recruiting and staffing offices throughout California, as well as recruiting and employing thousands of California employees. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all relevant times, SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC

1 employed PLAINTIFF and exercised control over PLAINTIFF's wages, hours and working
2 conditions.

3 3. PLAINTIFF does not know the true names and capacities of Defendants sued herein
4 as DOES 1 through 50, inclusive, and will amend this Complaint to set forth the true names and
5 capacities of said defendants, along with the appropriate charging allegations when the same have
6 been ascertained.

7 4. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that each of the
8 fictitiously named defendants was in some manner legally responsible for the actionable and
9 unlawful actions, policies and practices as alleged herein. PLAINTIFF will amend this Complaint
10 to set forth the true names and capacities of said defendants, along with the appropriate charging
11 allegations when the same have been ascertained.

12 5. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times
13 mentioned herein, all Defendants, and each of them, were acting as the agent and/or employee of
14 each remaining co-defendant, and were acting with permission and consent of each other, and
15 within the course and scope of said agency and/or employment. PLAINTIFF is further informed
16 and believes that each co-defendant, by and through its officers, directors or managing agents
17 ratified, authorized and approved, expressly or implicitly, all of the conduct alleged herein.

18 6. When in this Complaint reference is made to any act of the "DEFENDANT," such 19 shall be deemed to mean that officers, directors, agents, employees, or representatives of the 20 Defendants named in this lawsuit committed or authorized such acts, or failed and omitted to 21 adequately supervise or properly control or direct their employees while engaged in the
22 management, direction, operation or control of the affairs of the Defendants and did so while
23 acting within the scope of their employment or agency.

24 7. When in this Complaint reference is made to any act by a "DEFENDANT" or
25 "Defendants" or "co-defendants," such allegations and reference shall also be deemed to mean the 26 acts and failures to act of each of the named Defendants acting individually, jointly and severally.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

9. This Court has jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein pursuant to 28 U.S.C.S. § 1332(d).

10. Venue as to each Defendant is proper in this judicial district. DEFENDANT'S actionable and unlawful employment practices as to PLAINTIFF occurred in the County of San Diego, State of California.

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY BACKGROUND*A. California Labor Code Sections 201 through 203

11. California Labor Code Section 201 requires an employer who discharges an employee to pay compensation due and owing said employee immediately upon discharge. California Labor Code Section 202 requires an employer to promptly pay compensation due and owing an employee within 72 hours of that employee's separation of employment by resignation. California Labor Code Section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay compensation promptly upon discharge or resignation as required pursuant to California Labor Code Sections 201 and 202, said employer is liable to said employee for waiting time penalties.

B. California Labor Code Sections 218, 218.5 & 218.6

12. Labor Code Section 218 provides a private right of action for employees to sue directly for any wages or penalty due to him/her under this article of the Labor Code. Labor Code Sections 218.5 and 218.6 provide for the recovery of attorneys' fees, costs and pre-judgment interest to the prevailing party in the event of an action to recover wages brought by private individuals.

C. California Labor Code Section 221

13. Labor Code Section 221 prohibits an employer from receiving from an employee any wage paid by the employer to the employee either by unauthorized deductions of employees' wages or recovery after payment of the wage. In referring to "wages" paid, Section 221 prohibits

1 an employer from collecting or receiving wages "that have already been earned by performance of
2 agreed-upon requirements." (Steinhebel v. Los Angeles Times Communications, (2005) 126
3 Cal.App.4th 696, 707.)

4 D. California Labor Code Section 226

5 14. Labor Code Section 226 requires an employer to keep accurate, itemized pay
6 statements. Under California law, the precise, actual number of hours and minutes worked by a
7 non-exempt employee must be accurately itemized on each pay statement. If an employer
8 knowingly and intentionally fails to comply with this section, it is liable for the greater of all actual 9 damages or $50 for the initial pay period in which a violation occurs and $100 per employee for 10 each violation in a subsequent pay period, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per
11 employee.

12 E. California Labor Code Section 226.7

13 15. Labor Code Section 226.7 provides that no employer shall require any non-exempt
14 employee to work during any meal or rest period mandated by an applicable order of the Industrial
15 Welfare Commission. This section also provides that if an employer fails to provide a non-exempt
16 employee a 30 minute meal period and/or 10 minute rest periods in accordance with an applicable
17 order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, the employer shall pay the employee one additional
18 hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each work day that the meal period
19 was not provided and one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for 20 each work day that a rest period is not provided.

21 F. California Labor Code Section 510

22 16. Labor Code Section 510 requires the payment of overtime to nonexempt employees
23 at the rate of 1 ½ times their regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours
24 per day and all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per workweek, and payment of overtime
25 to nonexempt employees at the rate of two times the regular rate of pay for all hours in excess of 26 twelve (12) hours per day and all hours worked excess of eight hours on the seventh day worked in 27 any work week.

1 G. California Labor Code Section 512

2 17. Labor Code Section 512 provides that an employer may not employ an employee
3 for a work period of more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal
4 period of not less than 30 minutes, except that if the total work period per day of the employee is
5 no more than six hours, the meal period may be waived by mutual consent of both the employer
6 and employee. An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours
7 per day without providing the employee with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes,
8 except that if the total hours worked is no more than 12 hours, the second meal period may be
9 waived by mutual consent of the employer and the employee only if the first meal period was not
10 waived.

11 H. California Labor Code Section 2698 *et seq.

12 18. Labor Code Sections 2698 and 2699 are known as the "Labor Code Private 13 Attorney General Act of 2004." Labor Code Section 2699 allows for the recovery of civil 14 penalties for any violation of the Labor Code through a civil action brought by an aggrieved
15 employee. "An aggrieved employee" is defined in Labor Code Section 2699 as "any person who 16 was employed by the alleged violator and against whom one or more of the alleged violations was 17 committed."

18 19. Labor Code Section 2699 provides that an aggrieved employee may recover civil 19 penalties in a civil action filed on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former 20 employees against whom one or more of the alleged violations were committed. Labor Code
21 Section 2699 also provides that "nothing in this section shall operate to limit an employee's right to 22 pursue other remedies available under state or federal law, either separately or concurrently with an 23 action taken under this section."

24 I. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001 (Title 8, California Code of Regulations, § 11040)

25 20. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001 (and its predecessors), governing "Professional,
26 Technical, Clerical, Mechanical and Similar Occupations," is the applicable wage order in this
27 action. Industrial Wage Order 4-2001, which has been enacted into California's regulatory law as

1 Title 8, California Code of Regulations, § 11040, provides that employers must keep accurate time
2 records showing when employees begin and end each meal period [subsection (7)(A)(3)]. In
3 addition, the wage order provides that every employer shall permit all employees to take rest
4 periods in the middle of each work period. The authorized rest period is to be based on the total
5 hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes net rest time per four (4) hours or major fraction
6 thereof. [subsection (12)(A)]. The regulation also defines an "employer" as "any person as defined
7 in Section 18 of the Labor Code, who directly or indirectly, or through an agent or any other
8 person, employs or exercises control over the wages, hours, or working conditions of any person."

9 J. California Business & Professions Code Section 17200 et seq.

10 21. California Business & Professions Code § 17200 defines unfair competition to 11 include "unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business practices."

12 22. California Business & Professions Code § 17203 provides that "[t]he court may 13 make such orders or judgments...as may be necessary to prevent the use or employment by any
14 person of any practice which constitutes unfair competition, as defined in this chapter, or as may be
15 necessary to restore any person in interest any money or property, real or personal, which may 16 have been acquired by means of unfair competition."

17 23. California Business & Professions Code § 17204 provides for suits for injunctive
18 relief, restitution and disgorgement of profits.

19 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

20 24. PLAINTIFF brings the First through Eighth Causes of Action of this suit as a class
21 action pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 382, on behalf of all individuals employed
22 by DEFENDANT in the State of California in hourly, non-exempt positions during the relevant
23 time period. This action is also brought for the benefit of the general public.

24 25. The putative classes PLAINTIFF will seek to certify are currently composed of and 25 defined as follows:
26
27
28

- 1 a. All current and former California-based, hourly, non-exempt
2 employees of Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC
3 ENTERPRISES LLC who were employed by SPHERION
4 ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC between September 25,
5 2003 and the present (hereinafter, "the CLASS").
- 6 b. All current and former California-based, hourly, non-exempt
7 employees of Defendant SPHERION ATLANTIC
8 ENTERPRISES LLC who separated their employment with 9 SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC between 10 September 25, 2004 and the present (hereinafter, "the 11 SUBCLASS.")

12 26. Numerosity: The potential quantity of members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS as 13 defined is so numerous that joinder of all members would be unfeasible and unpractical. The 14 disposition of their claims through this class action will benefit both the parties and this Court. The 15 quantity of members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS is currently unknown to PLAINTIFF;
16 however, it is estimated that there are at least 50,000 members in the CLASS and at least 10,000
17 members in the SUBCLASS. The quantity and identity of such membership is readily
18 ascertainable via inspection of DEFENDANT'S records.

19 27. Typicality: The claims of PLAINTIFF are typical of the claims of all members of 20 the CLASS and SUBCLASS mentioned herein because all members of the CLASS and 21 SUBCLASS sustained injuries and damages arising out of DEFENDANT'S common course of
22 conduct in violation of California wage and hour law, and the injuries and damages of all members
23 of the CLASS and SUBCLASS were caused by DEFENDANT'S wrongful conduct in violation of 24 California statutory and regulatory law, as alleged herein.

25 28. Adequacy: PLAINTIFF is an adequate representative of the CLASS and
26 SUBCLASS and will fairly protect the interests of the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS,
27 and has no interests antagonistic to the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS, and will

1 vigorously pursue this suit via attorneys who are competent, skilled and experienced in litigating
2 matters of this type.

3 29. Superiority. The nature of this action and the nature of the laws available to
4 PLAINTIFF make the use of the class action format a particularly effective and appropriate
5 procedure to afford relief to PLAINTIFF for the wrongs alleged herein:

- 6 a. This case involves large corporate Defendants and a large number of 7 individual class members with common issues of law and fact. According to 8 DEFENDANT'S website, www.spherion.com, DEFENDANT employs
9 "[a]pproximately 300,000" employees "making Spherion one of the top
10 employers in North America;"
- 11 b. If each individual member of the CLASS and SUBCLASS were required to 12 file an individual lawsuit, the large corporate Defendant would necessarily
13 gain an unconscionable advantage because DEFENDANT would be able to
14 exploit and overwhelm the limited resources of each member of the CLASS
15 and SUBCLASS with DEFENDANT'S vastly superior financial and legal 16 resources.
- 17 c. Requiring each individual member of the CLASS and SUBCLASS to pursue
18 an individual remedy would also discourage the assertion of lawful claims
19 by the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS who would be disinclined
20 to pursue an action against DEFENDANT because of an appreciable and 21 justifiable fear of retaliation and permanent damage to their lives, careers 22 and well being;
- 23 d. Proof of a common business practice or factual pattern, of which the 24 members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS experienced, is representative of 25 the CLASS and SUBCLASS herein and will establish the right of each of 26 the members of CLASS and SUBCLASS to recover on the causes of action
27 alleged herein;

- 1 e. The prosecution of separate actions by the individual members of the 2 CLASS and SUBCLASS, even if possible, would create a substantial risk of 3 inconsistent and varying verdicts or adjudications with respect to the 4 individual members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS against DEFENDANT,
5 which would establish potentially incompatible standards of conduct for 6 DEFENDANT and/or legal determinations with respect to individual
7 members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS.

8 30. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Fact and Law:

9 There are common questions of fact and law as to the members of the CLASS and 10 SUBCLASS, which predominate over questions affecting only individual members of the CLASS
11 and SUBCLASS including, without limitation:

- 12 a. Whether the members of the CLASS were subjected to unauthorized and 13 illegal deduction of their earned wages;
14 b. Whether the members of the CLASS were expected, required, permitted
15 and/or suffered to work overtime hours on a regular basis;
16 c. Whether the members of the CLASS were paid overtime compensation in 17 accordance with California statutory and regulatory law;
18 d. Whether the members of the CLASS were provided with 30-minute meal
19 breaks;
20 e. Whether DEFENDANT has failed to keep accurate time records showing
21 when members of the CLASS begin and end each meal break;
22 f. Whether the members of the CLASS were provided with 10-minute rest
23 periods;
24 g. Whether the members of the SUBCLASS received all compensation owed
25 and due at the time of their separation of employment;
26 h. Whether the members of the SUBCLASS are entitled to seek recovery of 27 penalties pursuant to Labor Code § 203;

- 1 i. Whether DEFENDANT properly itemized the wage statements of the
2 members of the CLASS;
3 j. Whether DEFENDANT'S conduct constituted unfair or unlawful business
4 practices within the meaning of Business & Professions Code § 17200 et
5 seq.;
6 k. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
7 compensatory damages, and if so, the means of measuring such damages;
8 l. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to
9 injunctive relief;
10 m. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to 11 restitution;
12 n. Whether the members of the CLASS and SUBCLASS are entitled to 13 disgorgement of profits;
14 o. Whether DEFENDANT is liable for pre-judgment interest; and
15 p. Whether DEFENDANT is liable for attorneys' fees and costs.

16 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

17 (Unlawful Deductions of Wages Earned in Violation of 18 California Labor Code Sections 204 & 221)

19 (On Behalf of the CLASS)

20 31. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
21 Paragraphs.

22 32. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant times
23 DEFENDANT has continuously engaged in the regular practice of deducting, collecting and/or 24 receiving wages earned by members of the and CLASS. As a result, members of the CLASS have 25 not been paid all wages earned in performing work for DEFENDANT.

26 33. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT was 27 not authorized, required nor empowered to deduct, collect and/or receive wages from the members
28 of the CLASS pursuant to state or federal law, nor express authorization of the members of the and

1 CLASS, in writing, to cover insurance premiums, hospital or medical dues, nor pursuant to an
2 enforceable and lawful wage agreement or statute.

3 34. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT'S 4 regular practice of deducting, collecting and/or receiving wages earned by the members of the 5 CLASS violates California Labor Code sections 204 and 221.

6 35. As a result of the actions of DEFENDANT, in deducting, collecting and/or 7 receiving wages earned by the members of the CLASS, members of the CLASS were damaged by 8 not receiving wages that they should have received. Members of the CLASS are therefore entitled 9 to compensation in an amount to be proven at trial for unpaid wages, pre-judgment interest,
10 attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code sections 218, 218.5 & 218.6.

11 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

12 (Failure to Pay Overtime Compensation in Violation of 13 California Labor Code Sections 510 & 1194)

14 (On Behalf of the CLASS)

15 36. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
16 Paragraphs.

17 37. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant times
18 DEFENDANT has continuously engaged in the regular practice of requiring, suffering or 19 permitting members of the CLASS to work hours in excess of eight hours per day and/or 40 hours 20 per week.

21 38. The laws of the State of California require employers, such as DEFENDANT, to 22 pay overtime compensation to all non-exempt employees. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of 23 information and belief, that members of the CLASS are not exempt from overtime pay
24 requirements under California law. PLAINTIFF further alleges that all members of the CLASS
25 have been classified by DEFENDANT as non-exempt, hourly employees.

26 39. As a result of the actions of DEFENDANT in failing and/or refusing to pay
27 overtime compensation, members of the CLASS were damaged by not receiving overtime
28 compensation which they should have received, but did not receive. Members of the CLASS are

- 12 -

FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT
07CV02178

1 therefore entitled to compensation in an amount to be proven at trial for unpaid overtime, pre-
2 judgment interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code section 1194.

3 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

4 (Failure to Provide 30-Minute Employee Meal Period)

5 (On Behalf of the CLASS)

6 40. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
7 Paragraphs.

8 41. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that within each of the 9 four years prior to the commencement of this action, DEFENDANT promulgated and enforced
10 policies under which members of the CLASS regularly worked more than five hours in a day
11 without being provided with a thirty-minute meal period during which members of the CLASS
12 were relieved of all of their respective work duties. DEFENDANT also promulgated and enforced
13 policies under which members of the and CLASS regularly worked more than ten hours in a day
14 without being provided with a second thirty-minute meal period during which members of the 15 CLASS were relieved of all of their respective work duties.

16 42. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that at all relevant
17 times, DEFENDANT has failed to maintain accurate records of when members of the CLASS
18 begin and end each meal period.

19 43. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that members of the 20 CLASS are entitled to additional wages pursuant to California Labor Code Section 226.7 for each
21 work shift lasting more than five hours during which members of the CLASS were not provided
22 with one or more thirty minute meal periods.

23 44. As a result of DEFENDANT'S conduct as alleged herein, members of the CLASS

(Failure to Allow 10-Minute Employee Rest Periods)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

45. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

46. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that within each of the four years prior to the commencement of this action, DEFENDANT promulgated and enforced policies under which members of the CLASS regularly worked more than four hours per day without being allowed one or more paid rest periods of at least ten minutes during which the members of the CLASS were relieved of all of their respective work duties.

47. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that members of the CLASS are entitled to additional wages pursuant to California Labor Code Section 226.7 for each four hour work period during which members of the CLASS were not provided with one or more ten minute rest periods.

48. As a result of DEFENDANT'S conduct as alleged herein, members of the CLASS have suffered harm and monetary damages, in an amount to be ascertained at trial.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Failure to Reimburse for Reasonable Business Expenses in Violation of Labor Code § 2802; Cal. Code Regs., Title 8 § 11040 sections 8 &amp; 9)

(On Behalf of the CLASS)

49. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above Paragraphs.

50. Labor Code Section 2802 provides that an employer shall indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer. Title 8 CCR § 11010(8) provides that "No employer shall make any deduction from the wage or require any reimbursement from an employee for any cash shortage, breakage, or loss of

1 equipment, unless it can be shown that the shortage, breakage, or loss is caused by a dishonest or
2 willful act, or by the gross negligence of the employee.”

3 51. During the applicable statutory period, PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS
4 incurred necessary expenditures and losses in direct consequence of the discharge of their
5 employment duties and their obedience to the directions of DEFENDANT, including but not
6 limited to travel expenses, gas charges, mileage, cell phone charges, laptop computer usage, and
7 other similar expenditures.

8 52. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes that pursuant to California Labor Code §
9 2802 and Title 8 CCR § 11040(8) & (9), PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS are entitled
10 to recover their un-reimbursed expenditures and losses, interest thereon and attorneys’ fees and 11 costs, in amounts to be proven at trial.

13 (Failure to Provide Properly Itemized Wage Statements in Violation of 14 Labor Code §§ 226 and 226.3; Cal. Code Regs., Title 8 § 11040 section 7)

15 (On Behalf of the CLASS)

16 53. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
17 Paragraphs.

18 54. Labor Code Section 226 requires an employer to keep accurate, itemized pay
19 statements. Under California law, gross wages earned, the precise, actual number of hours and 20 minutes worked by a non-exempt employee, all deductions, net wages earned, inclusive dates of 21 the pay period, the name of the employee, the name and address of the legal entity that is the 22 employer, and all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period must be accurately
23 itemized on each pay statement. Furthermore, the deductions made from payment of wages must 24 be recorded, properly dated, and a copy of the statement or a record of the deductions shall be kept
25 on file by the employer for at least three years at the place of employment or at a central location
26 within the State of California.

27 55. During the applicable statutory period, DEFENDANT has routinely failed to 28 provide the members of the CLASS, at the time of each payment of wages, an itemized statement

07CV02178

1 in writing showing the requirements of Labor Code § 226 and section 7 of Title 8 CCR § 11040.
2 DEFENDANT'S failure to provide itemized statements to the members of the CLASS has been
3 knowing and intentional and was in clear violation of Labor Code § 226(a). In direct violation of 4 California law, DEFENDANT has refused to provide the members of the CLASS with any record
5 or documentation of expenses deducted from such employees' earnings.

6 56. The members of the CLASS have suffered injuries as a result of the knowing and
7 intentional failure of DEFENDANT to comply with Labor Code § 226(a) and Title 8 CCR §
8 11040(7), in that DEFENDANT'S failure to provide Class Members with an itemized wage
9 statement made it impossible for the members of the CLASS to be aware that unlawful deductions
10 were being made from their earnings, that they were not being paid all wages earned, and that in
12 rates.

13 57. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that DEFENDANT'S
14 knowing and intentional failure to furnish the members of the CLASS with itemized wage
15 statements, as alleged above, violated Labor Code § 226(a), as well as Title 8 CCR § 11040(7).
16 Labor Code § 226(e) entitles PLAINTIFF and the members of the CLASS to recover the greater of
17 their actual damages caused by DEFENDANT'S violations, or $50 per employee for the initial pay
18 period in which the violation occurred, and $100 per employee for each violation in subsequent
19 pay periods, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee.

20 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

21 (Failure to Pay Compensation at the Time of Termination in Violation of 22 California Labor Code Sections 201-203)

23 (On Behalf of the SUBCLASS)

24 58. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
25 Paragraphs.

26 59. PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that DEFENDANT has 27 willfully failed and has refused to pay all compensation and wages due to members of the 28 SUBCLASS upon their separation of employment.

1           60.     DEFENDANT'S failure to timely pay compensation and wages to members of the
2     SUBCLASS at the time of their separation of employment is willful. As a result, DEFENDANT is
3     liable to members of the members of the SUBCLASS for waiting time penalties under California
4     Labor Code Section 203 in an amount to be ascertained at trial.

5                     EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

6                     (Unlawful and Unfair Business Practices: Business & Professions Code §§ 17200 et seq.)

7                     (On behalf of PLAINTIFF, the CLASS, and the General Public)

8           61.     PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
9     Paragraphs.

10          62.     Within each of the four years prior to the commencement of this action,
11     PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that DEFENDANT has unlawfully
12     failed to pay hourly wages and overtime wages to Class Members, including Plaintiff, in violation
13     of Labor Code §§ 204, 221 510, 1194, 1197 and 1197.1; unlawfully failed to provide meal breaks,
14     or compensation in lieu thereof, to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor
15     Code §§ 226.7 and 512; unlawfully failed to provide rest periods, or compensation in lieu thereof,
16     to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor Code § 226.7; unlawfully failed to 17     reimburse Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, for reasonable business expenditures in 18     violation of Labor Code § 2802; and unlawfully failed to provide properly itemized wage 19     statements to Class Members, including PLAINTIFF, in violation of Labor Code § 226.

20          63.     By committing the alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint,
21     DEFENDANT has engaged, and continue to engage, in unlawful and/or unfair business practices
22     within the meaning of California Business & Professions Code § 17200 et seq.

23          64.     PLAINTIFF alleges, on the basis of information and belief, that as a result of 24     DEFENDANT'S alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this Complaint, DEFENDANT has 25     unlawfully earned profits from such unlawful and/or unfair business practices.

26          65.     A request for injunctive relief, restitution and for the disgorgement of unlawfully
27     earned profits is specifically authorized by California Business & Professions Code § 17200 et seq.

1 Thus, on behalf of members of the CLASS, and on behalf of the general public, PLAINTIFF seeks
2 injunctive relief, restitution (to members of the CLASS) of all unlawfully withheld funds, and the 3 disgorgement of all unlawfully earned profits (to members of the CLASS) obtained by 4 DEFENDANT as a result of DEFENDANT'S alleged acts and/or omissions as described in this 5 Complaint.

6 66. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that unless restrained
7 and ordered to pay restitution and disgorge profits derived from said unfair and unlawful business
8 practices, DEFENDANT will continue to engage in the alleged acts and/or omissions as described 9 in this Complaint.

10 NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 (Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004: Labor Code § 2698 et seq.)

12 (On Behalf of PLAINTIFF, All Other Aggrieved Employees and the State of California)

13 67. PLAINTIFF realleges by reference, as if fully set forth herein, all of the above
14 Paragraphs.

15 68. PLAINTIFF is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all relevant times,
16 DEFENDANT has violated, and continue to violate, several provisions of the California Labor
17 Code, including but not limited to:

- 18 i. Sections 201 through 203 (Failure to Pay Compensation at the Time of Separation 19 of Employment);
- 20 ii. Section 204 (Failure to Pay Wages Due & Owed);
- 21 iii. Section 221 (Unlawful Deductions of Wages Earned);
- 22 iv. Section 226 (Failure to Maintain Adequate Wage Statements);
- 23 v. Section 226.7 (Failure to Compensate for Missed Meal Break);
- 24 vi. Section 226.7 (Failure to Compensate for Missed Rest Periods);
- 25 vii. Section 510 (Failure to Pay Overtime);
- 26 viii. Section 512 (Failure to Provide Meal Breaks);
- 27 ix. Section 1174 (Failure to Maintain Accurate Time Records);

28 - 18 -

FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT
07CV02178

1 x. Section 1194 (Failure to Pay Overtime Compensation);

2 xi. Section 2802 (Indemnification of Employees for Work-Related Expenditures).

3 69. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 2699, PLAINTIFFS bring this cause of action on 4 behalf of themselves and all other current or former employees of DEFENDANT against whom
5 one or more of the alleged violations was committed and/or is being committed ("aggrieved
6 employees," as defined by Section 2699(c)).

7 70. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 2699, PLAINTIFF seeks to recover from 8 DEFENDANT civil penalties for each Labor Code violation, to be calculated at the rate at which 9 the civil penalty is to be assessed and collected by the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
10 or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, agencies, or employees.

11 71. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 2699, for all provisions of the California Labor
12 Code that do not specifically provide for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
13 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
14 agencies, or employees, PLAINTIFF seeks to recover from Defendants civil penalties for each
15 Labor Code violation at the following rate: one hundred dollar ($100) for each aggrieved employee
16 per pay period for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee
17 per pay period for each subsequent violation.

18 72. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 2699, PLAINTIFF seeks an award of reasonable
19 attorney's fees and costs for bringing this cause of action on behalf of themselves and other past 20 and present aggrieved employees of DEFENDANT against whom one or more of the alleged 21 violations was committed.

22 73. In compliance with Labor Code Section 2699.3, on September 25, 2007
23 PLAINTIFF provided DEFENDANT and the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency
24 ("LWDA") with written notice, via certified mail, of the specific provisions of the Labor Code
25 alleged to have been violated by Defendants, and the facts and theories to support the allegations.

26 74. On October 17, 2007 the LWDA notified PLAINTIFF's counsel that it had received
27 PLAINTIFF's notice of the alleged Labor Code violations. The LWDA has designated

1 PLAINTIFF's Labor Code allegations against DEFENDANT as "LWDA No. 2750."

2 75. More than 33 days have elapsed since PLAINTIFF notified the LWDA, via certified
3 mail, of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated by DEFENDANT.
4 To date, the LWDA has not notified PLAINTIFF that it intends to investigate the alleged violations
5 contained in PLAINTIFFS' notice.

6 76. Pursuant to Section 2699.3(a)(2)(A), PLAINTIFF may commence a civil action
7 against DEFENDANT for civil penalties on behalf of themselves, the State of California and 8 DEFENDANT's other current and former aggrieved employees.

9 77. Pursuant to Section 2699.3(a)(2)(C), PLAINTIFF may as a matter of right,
10 without leave of court, amend the original complaint to bring this cause of action under the Labor
11 Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004.

12 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

13 WHEREFORE, PLAINTIFF, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated, and on 14 behalf of the general public, prays for judgment as follows:

15 1. That the Court issue an Order certifying the CLASS and SUBCLASS, appointing
16 the named PLAINTIFF as representative of all others similarly situated and appointing the law
17 firm(s) representing the named PLAINTIFF as counsel for members of the CLASS;

18 As to the First Cause of Action for Unlawfully Deducted Wages on Behalf of the CLASS

19 2. For compensatory damages according to proof, including all wages due and owing 20 as a result of DEFENDANT'S unlawful deduction of wages earned by members of the CLASS;

21 3. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
22 Labor Code Section 218.6;

23 4. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
24 permitted by statute;

25 5. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

26 As to the Second Cause of Action for Overtime Compensation on Behalf of the CLASS

27 6. For compensatory damages according to proof, including all wages due and owing

1 as a result of DEFENDANT'S failure to pay overtime compensation to members of the CLASS;

2 7. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
3 Labor Code Section 1194;

4 8. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 1194, or as otherwise
5 permitted by statute;

6 9. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

7 As to the Third Cause of Action for Failure to Allow 30-Minute Employee Meal Periods on Behalf
8 of the CLASS

9 10. For compensatory damages in the form of additional wages equal to one hour's
10 regular pay for each member of the CLASS for each work shift in which such member worked
11 more than five hours without being permitted to take the required meal period;

12 11. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
13 Labor Code Section 218.6;

14 12. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
15 permitted by statute;

16 13. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

17 As to the Fourth Cause of Action for Failure to Allow 10-Minute Employee Rest Periods on Behalf
18 of the CLASS

19 14. For compensatory damages in the form of additional wages equal to one hour's
20 regular pay for each member of the CLASS for each four hour work period in which such member
21 worked without being permitted to a paid rest period;

22 15. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
23 Labor Code Section 218.6;

24 16. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
25 permitted by statute;

26 17. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

1 As to the Fifth Cause of Action for Indemnification of Employees for Expenditures or Losses in
2 Discharge of Duties or Obedience to Directions on Behalf of the CLASS

3 18. For compensatory damages according to proof, including but not limited to
4 expenditures, losses, lost wages, earnings and other employee benefits and all other sums of money
5 owed to each member of the CLASS incurred during the proper discharge of their duties for
6 DEFENDANT, or during the course and scope of their employment for DEFENDANT.

7 19. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289;

8 20. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code § 2802 or as otherwise
9 permitted by statute;

10 21. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

11 As to the Sixth Cause of Action for Improperly Itemized Wage Statements on Behalf of the 12 CLASS

13 22. For compensatory damages or minimum statutory damages of $50 for the first
14 violation and $100 for each subsequent violation pursuant to Labor Code Section 226(e);

16 Labor Code Section 226(e);

17 24. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 226(e) or as otherwise
18 permitted by statute;

19 25. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

20 As to the Seventh Cause of Action for Waiting Time Penalties on Behalf of the SUBCLASS

21 26. For statutory penalties pursuant to Labor Code Section 203;

22 27. For pre-judgment interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and
23 Labor Code Section 218.6;

24 28. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Section 218.5, or as otherwise
25 permitted by statute;

26 29. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

1 As to the Eighth Cause of Action for Unlawful and Unfair Business Practices on Behalf of the 2 CLASS and the General Public

3 30. For an Order requiring DEFENDANT to identify each of the members of the 4 CLASS by name, home address and home telephone number;

5 31. For an Order compelling DEFENDANT to restore unpaid wages, expenditures,
6 losses, income and other related benefits (in the form of restitution) to each of the members of the 7 CLASS who have suffered as a result of DEFENDANT'S unlawful and unfair business practices
8 alleged herein;

9 32. For an order compelling DEFENDANT to disgorge and pay over to each of the 10 members of the CLASS all profits and savings resulting from DEFENDANT'S unlawful and
11 unfair business practices alleged herein;

12 33. For issuance of a permanent injunction enjoining DEFENDANT from continuing to 13 engage in the unlawful and unfair business practices alleged herein;

14 34. For interest at the legal rate pursuant to Civil Code Section 3289 and Labor Code
15 Section 204.6;

16 35. For attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code Sections 218.5, 1194 & 2802,
17 Code of Civil Procedure Section 1021.5 and as otherwise permitted by statute;

18 36. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper;

19 As to the Ninth Cause of Action for Civil Penalties, under Labor Code Private Attorney General
20 Act of 2004, on Behalf of the PLAINTIFF, all other current and former aggrieved employees, and 21 on behalf of the State of California

22 37. For civil penalties, according to the method of calculations set forth in Labor Code
23 Section 2699;

24 38. For attorneys' fees pursuant to Labor Code Section 2699 or as otherwise permitted
25 by statute;

26 39. For costs of suit incurred herein;

27 40. For such other and further relief as the court deems just and proper

Plaintiff's Requests for Production of Documents (Set One)
 07CV02178

1 Pursuant to Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff, PHILIP J.
 2 MARTINET ("PLAINTIFF"), hereby requests that Defendant, SPHERION ATLANTIC
 3 ENTERPRISES LLC ("DEFENDANT"), produce and permit counsel for PLAINTIFF to inspect
 4 and copy the following documents, which are within YOUR possession, custody or control.

5 Under Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, responding party is required to 6 serve written response to this Request subscribed under oath within 30 days after the service of this
 7 Request, upon PLAINTIFF's counsel, Derek J. Emge, EMGE & ASSOCIATES, 550 West "C"
 8 Street, Suite 1600, San Diego, CA 92101.

9 The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related 10 activities will be permitted as requested, unless the request is objected to, in which event the 11 reasons for the objection shall be stated.

12 If YOU claim any document that YOU are requested to produce is privileged, YOU are 13 requested to provide the following information in writing at the time YOU serve YOUR Response 14 with respect to each such document:

- 15 (a) The nature of the privilege YOU claim;
- 16 (b) The facts upon which YOU rely as a basis for claiming the privilege;
- 17 (c) Each person who prepared the document;
- 18 (d) The title and date of the document;
- 19 (e) The general subject matter of the document;
- 20 (f) Each person who signed the document;
- 21 (g) Each person to whom the document was directed, circulated or shown; and,
- 22 (h) Each person now in possession of the document or any copy thereof.

23 DEFINITIONS

24 As used herein, the terms "YOU" and "YOUR" include you, SPHERION ATLANTIC
 25 ENTERPRISES LLC, and any PERSON or entity acting on your behalf, including any employees,

1 TO THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN
2 DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA:

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, pursuant to F.R.C.P. 26(f), counsel for 4 Defendant Spherion Atlantic Enterprises LLC ("Spherion" or "Defendant") and counsel
5 for Plaintiff Philip Martinet ("Martinet" or "Plaintiff"), met and conferred via telephone
6 on February 29, 2008, in accordance with the February 7, 2008 Order of the Honorable
7 Anthony J. Battaglia. Counsel discussed the nature and bases of their claims and 8 defenses and the possibilities for a prompt settlement but were unable to resolve the case.
9 Counsel further agreed to the following stipulation regarding the parties' discovery plan:

- 10 1. Required disclosures under F.R.C.P. 26(a)(1)A-D will be made, in accordance 11 with Judge Battaglia's Order, by no later than March 14, 2008.
- 12 2. Pursuant to an agreement reached by the parties in Judge Battaglia's 13 conference room at the ENE Conference on February 5, 2008, the parties
14 stipulated to the commencement of discovery on certain pre-certification
15 issues prior to the submission of the present discovery plan. Accordingly,
16 Plaintiff's first set of written discovery, addressing only pre-certification
17 issues, was propounded on February 8, 2008. The parties have met and 18 conferred and agreed to extend the time Defendant has to respond to a 19 significant portion of this discovery until April 2, 2008. The remainder is due 20 on March 12, 2008.
- 21 3. There is a dispute between the parties as to the scope of pre-class certification
22 discovery.
23 Plaintiff maintains that Defendant's disclosure of the identification and 24 contact information of all aggrieved employees under Plaintiff's Labor Code
25 Private Attorney General Act (California Labor Code § 2699 et. seq.)

26 -2-

27 JOINT DISCOVERY PLAN

28 07CV2178 W (AJB)

1 ("PAGA") and putative class members under Plaintiff's other California
2 Labor Code claims is allowed prior to certification of the class. Plaintiff
3 further contends that aspects of class-certification discovery and merits
4 discovery overlap. Accordingly, Plaintiff contends that the following issues
5 are discoverable prior to the Court's ruling on Plaintiff's anticipated motion to 6 certify Plaintiff's class claims: (a) identification of all employees during the 7 putative class period; (b) the basis for penalties, including but not limited to,
8 employee time records and employee wage records on a per-pay-period basis
9 from December 19, 2006 to the present.

10 Defendant contends that Spherion is a unique business entity with numerous 11 decentralized offices and franchises throughout the state and pre-class
12 certification discovery seeking information relating to thousands of its state-13 wide employees at hundreds of different offices and franchises is 14 unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and irrelevant to certification of a 15 class common to the Plaintiff. This discovery also violates employee privacy.
16 Defendant further contends that Plaintiff must first establish prima-facie class-
17 certification requirements under F.R.C.P. 23 before seeking broad, 18 voluminous, and costly state-wide discovery related to thousands of 19 employees who share no commonality or typicality with the named Plaintiff.

20 Although the parties intend to continue to meet and confer in good faith
21 regarding this discovery issue, it is anticipated that judicial intervention may 22 be required to resolve this issue.

23 Plaintiff's counsel believes this dispute can be resolved quickly and 24 informally at the March 21, 2008 Case Management Conference. Although 25 Defense counsel is not opposed to an expedited or informal resolution process,

26 -3-

07CV2178 W (AJB)

1 Defendant would prefer to have this dispute heard pursuant to a motion and 2 hearing because the dispute is complex, there are a number of legal and 3 factual issues that need to be presented to the Court, and the expense and 4 burden associated with complying with Plaintiff's state-wide discovery is
5 enormous. Defendant anticipates moving for a protective order under Rule
6 26(c) because of the extreme burden posed by Plaintiff's discovery requests.

- 7 4. Counsel have agreed that the following specific discovery will be necessary to 8 evaluate this case: (a) Defendant's deposition of Plaintiff and Plaintiff's
9 percipient witnesses; (b) Plaintiff's deposition of the Defendant's Persons
10 Most Knowledgeable with respect to the following issues: (i) Defendant's 11 meal break policies with respect to its non-exempt California employees from 12 September 2003 to the present; (ii) Defendant's rest period policies with 13 respect to its non-exempt California employees from September 2003 to the 14 present; (iii) Defendant's time-keeping policies with respect to its non-exempt
15 California employees from September 2003 to the present; (iv) Defendant's
16 overtime policies with respect to its non-exempt California employees from 17 September 2003 to the present; (v) Defendant's reimbursement of employee
18 expenditures policies with respect to its non-exempt California employees
19 from September 2003 to the present; (vi) Defendant's payroll record keeping
20 policies with respect to its non-exempt California employees from September
21 2003 to the present; (vii) Defendant's policies related to itemized wage
22 statements with respect to its non-exempt California employees from 23 September 2003 to the present; and (viii) Defendant's policies related to 24 payment of all compensation upon employees' separation of employment with 25 respect to its non-exempt California employees from September 2003 to the

1 present; and (c) Plaintiff's deposition of an agreed-upon limited number of 2 Defendant's officers and managing agents regarding Defendant's corporate
3 structure and its business relationships with its affiliated corporations, limited
4 liability companies, and other business entities.

5 8. Defendant will make its employee and management witnesses available for 6 deposition in their city of residence, without the need for subpoena.

7 9. Prior to Plaintiff's motion for class certification Defendant anticipates the 8 following discovery: (a) written interrogatories to Plaintiff; (b) document
9 requests to Plaintiff; (c) depositions of the Plaintiff; and (d) depositions of any 10 percipient witnesses identified in discovery. Defendant will also seek to 11 depose any witnesses who submits evidence or testimony in support of 12 Plaintiff's motion for class certification.

13 10. Counsel fully reserve the right to conduct additional discovery that may be 14 required, including but not limited to depositions not identified herein (subject 15 to the limitations set by Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and local rules), and 16 expert witness discovery.

17 11. Counsel presently foresee the need for changes in the limitations on discovery
18 imposed under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Specifically, Defendant
19 anticipates that Plaintiff's deposition may take more than 7 hours. Similarly,
20 Plaintiff anticipates that the depositions of Defendant's Person(s) Most 21 Knowledgeable may take more than 7 hours. Counsel have agreed to enter 22 into separate agreements, as necessary, to protect any information and/or 23 documents protected by confidentiality or right to privacy.

24 This Joint Discovery Plan is being lodged with Judge Battaglia pursuant to the 25 Court's February 7, 2008 Order.

 PLAINTIFF'S REQUESTS FOR
 ONE), REQUEST NUMBER 3

PROPOUNDING PARTY: PLAINTIFF, PHILIP J. MARTINET

RESPONDING PARTY: DEFENDANT, SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC

SET NUMBER: ONE, REQUEST NUMBER 3

Pursuant to FRCP 34, and all other applicable rules, defendant Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC ("defendant") hereby responds to plaintiff's requests for production of documents (set one), Request Number 3. Defendant does not admit the materiality, relevance or admissibility of the evidence of the matters set forth herein. Discovery and investigation in this matter are continuing and defendant reserves the right to supplement the responses set forth herein and to present and rely upon evidence discovered subsequent to these responses.

DEFENDANT SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC'S RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFF'S REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS (SET ONE)

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3

Produce any and all DOCUMENTS that YOU contend demonstrate YOUR California-based non-exempt employees, other than PLAINTIFF, have been provided with state-mandated 30-minute meal breaks from September 2003 to the present.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST NO. 3

Defendant objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this request is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the documents sought by this request are irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the request is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and policies. This request is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions. Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Defendant further objects to this interrogatory to the extent that it seeks information protected by Spherion employees' right of privacy. Defendant further

Re: *Martinet v. Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC
S.D. Cal Case No. 07CV2178 W (AJB)

Dear Mr. McKelvey:

This letter serves as a reasonable and good faith attempt to resolve informally several pending discovery issues pertaining to our client's, Mr. Philip J. Martinet ("Plaintiff"), first set of written discovery propounded to your client, Spherion Atlantic Enterprises LLC ("Defendant"). Regrettably, your client has alleged a litany of merit-less objections in response to Plaintiff's Interrogatory No. 1 and Request for Production No. 3. This is particularly disappointing considering the fact that Plaintiff has granted your client a three-extension to respond to the vast majority of Plaintiff's discovery items other than these two straightforward requests.

We are nevertheless hopeful that the meet and confer process will urge your client to provide complete, amended responses to these disputed discovery items. Accordingly, the following is an itemized list for each item in dispute, along with a description of the deficiencies in your client's responses.

Interrogatory Number One

This interrogatory simply seeks the names and contact information of putative class members. In examining your client's objections, it is clear that all objections lack merit:

March 19, 2008

a. “unreasonably broad,” “unduly burdensome” and “oppressive”

“Unreasonably broad” is not a proper objection. (Deyo v. Kilbourne (1978) 84 Cal.App.3d 771.) Furthermore, “burdensome” is also an improper objection. The ground for such an objection must be “oppression.” Thus, it is not enough that the questions will require a lot of work to answer. It must be shown that the burden of answering is so unjust that it amounts to oppression. West Pico Furn. Co. v. Sup. Ct. (1961) 56 Cal.2d 407, 418-419.]]

The Court will sustain an objection on “oppression” grounds only where it appears that the amount of work required to answer the questions is so great, and the utility of the information sought so minimal, that it would defeat the ends of justice to require the answers. (See Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. v. Sup. Ct. (1968) 263 Cal.App.2d 12, 19) and West Pico Furn. Co. v. Sup. Ct., supra.)

Clearly, if this matter is required to be litigated on a Motion to Compel, your client will not be able to satisfy this test. The information sought in this special interrogatory should be readily available to your client; and, the utility of the information is substantial since it goes to the heart of the Putative Class claims as well as Mr. Martinet’s cause of action under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”) (Labor Code § 2698 et seq.).

In addition, on a Motion to Compel, the burden will be on your client to sustain the objection by detailed evidence showing precisely how much work is required to answer; conclusionary statements, such as those stated in your client’s present response, are not sufficient. West Pico Furn. Co. v. Sup. Ct., supra, 56 Cal.2d at 418-419 (declaration by manager that search of 78 branch offices would be required was insufficient to constitute “oppression.”)

b. “plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied...”

Why Defendant even makes this argument in connection with Plaintiff’s Interrogatory No. One is a mystery. All of the cases cited herein involve pre-certification disclosure of the names and contact information of putative class members. As a result, Defendant’s objection that Plaintiff’s discovery request cannot go forward prior to class certification is without merit.

Also, in addition to Plaintiff’s class claims, this information is clearly discoverable under Plaintiff’s PAGA claim. In fact, PAGA does not contain any class action restrictions. On this point, Defendant will be unable to cite one case holding that a PAGA claim must be certified as a class action before proceeding to trial.

A recent federal decision suggests that no such restrictions exist. In De Simas v. Big Lots Stores, Inc. (N.D. Cal., filed March 2, 2007) 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19257, the district court explains the scope of a plaintiff’s PAGA claim: “Plaintiffs are thus correct that the ‘aggrieved employee bringing a PAGA claim need not have a valid claim for all of the violations brought under the claim.’ The employee must, however, have a valid claim for at least one of those violations.” Id. at pp. * 12-13. [Emphasis added.] Thus, if a plaintiff need not bring PAGA claims that contain the requisite typicality and commonality, it only follows that class certification is not required.

In addition, PAGA’s definition of an “aggrieved employee” does not contemplate an employee being required to prove Labor Code violations before maintaining a PAGA cause of action. Rather, the Legislature defined “aggrieved employee” as “any person who was employed by the alleged violator and against whom one or more of the alleged violations was committed.” Labor Code § 2699(c). [Emphasis added.] The plain language of PAGA simply requires factual allegations, not proof, of Labor Code violations. If Defendant believed that Plaintiff’s claims were frivolous, malicious or without any basis, it should have challenged Plaintiff’s operative complaint at the pleading stage. Instead, Defendant answered the complaint, and the case has been at issue for several months. Defendant’s present objection in the middle of the civil discovery process is an untimely and improper challenge to Plaintiff’s representative efforts on behalf of all “aggrieved employees.”

The legislative history of PAGA explains that the LWDA is “understaffed” and “underfunded,” and therefore the purpose of the law is to rely on employee whistleblowers and their counsel to enforce the Labor Code in private civil actions. A recent decision explains that PAGA was enacted “to augment the enforcement abilities of the Labor Commissioner with a private attorney general system for labor law enforcement,” and thus “empowers or deputizes an aggrieved employee to sue for civil penalties...” [Emphasis added.] Dunlap v. Superior Court of Los Angeles County (2006) 142 Cal. App. 4th 330, 337. Thus, we have been commissioned, or “deputized,” to pursue Labor Code violations against your client on a statewide basis.

Since the purpose behind PAGA’s penalty scheme is to enforce California wage and hour law and provide the State with 75% of all civil penalties recovered, the Legislature has not included class action standards or restrictions in PAGA. Thus, these remedies are cumulative to Mr. Martinet’s class claims and will be litigated in the present matter regardless of the Court’s ruling on the suitability of the present matter for class treatment.

c. “seeks information protected by Spherion employees’ right to privacy”

Defendant’s privacy objection also fails, as recent case law overwhelmingly supports disclosure in this instance. In a leading California case on this topic, Planned Parenthood Golden Gate v. Superior Court ((2000) 83 Cal.App.4th 347), the court held that “the constitutional right of privacy is not absolute and must therefore be balanced against other important interests.” (Id. at 356.) In balancing the interests, the Court went on to explain:

The strength of an individual’s interest in keeping personal information private depends in large part of the consequence of disclosure. Courts look to human experience to determine the likely effect of disclosure of the information at issue. (Id. at 359.)

Recently, the California Supreme Court addressed this balancing test in the class action context. The Court subsequently held that the names and phone numbers of putative class members can be disclosed to counsel for the named plaintiff(s) through pre-class certification discovery. Pioneer Electronics, Inc. v. Superior Court (2007) 40 Cal. 4th 360, 373:

Contact information regarding the identity of potential class members is generally discoverable, so that a lead plaintiff may learn the names of other persons who might assist in prosecuting the case. Code Civ. Proc., § 2017.010. Such disclosure involves no revelation of personal or business secrets, intimate activities, or similar private information, and threatens no undue intrusion into one's personal life, such as mass-marketing efforts or unsolicited sales pitches.

Five other California cases have addressed the issue of pre-certification discovery of the identity of class members. Each agrees that disclosure is required. For instance, last year the Court of Appeal, Division Seven, Second Appellate District applied the holding of Pioneer Electronics to wage and hour class actions, declaring:

The balance of opposing interests here tilts even more in favor of the court's disclosure order than it did in Pioneer, because at stake here is the fundamental public policy underlying California's employment laws. '[T]he prompt payment of wages due an employee is a fundamental policy of this state.' [Citation.] Belaire-West Landscaping, Inc. v. Superior Court (2007) 149 Cal. App. 4th 554, 562. [Emphasis added.]

Similarly, in Parris v. Superior Court (2003) 109 Cal.App.4th 285, the named plaintiffs sought leave to have pre-certification communication with the class members, and to compel discovery of the names and addresses of potential class members. Division Seven of the Second Appellate District concluded that no leave was required simply to communicate with potential class members, but that the trial court abused its discretion in denying the motion to compel discovery. Id. at 290.

Also, in Best Buy Stores, L.P. v. Superior Court (2006) 137 Cal.App.4th 772, the representative plaintiff was an attorney who had also intended to represent the class. Intervening authority held that a lawyer could not be both a class representative and class counsel. As a result, plaintiff sought pre-certification discovery to seek additional class representatives. Division Three of the Fourth Appellate District upheld the trial court's order granting such discovery. Id. at p. 779.

This year, two additional published appellate opinions were rendered, further supporting Plaintiff's position on this legal issue. In Puerto v. Superior Court (Wild Oats) ___ Cal.App.4th ___ (filed January 15, 2008) the Court of Appeal, Second Appellate District, Division Seven affirmed the holding of Belaire-West Landscaping, Inc. and held that an "opt-in notice" ordered by the trial court "unduly hampers petitioners in conducting discovery to which they are entitled by erecting obstacles that not only exceed the protections necessary to adequately guard the privacy rights of the employees involved but also exceed the discovery protections given by law to far more sensitive personal information.” [Slip opinion at page 2.]

Furthermore, in CashCall, Inc. v. Superior Court, ___ Cal.App.4th ___ (Jan. 24, 2008), the Fourth Appellate District, Division One held that the trial court appropriately permitted “precertification discovery in a class action for the purpose of identifying class members who may become substitute plaintiffs in place of named plaintiffs who were not members of the class they purported to represent.” [Slip op. at 2.] The Court reasoned that because there was no state or other pending investigation involving CashCall’s secret call monitoring program, absent continuation of the instant class action, there likely would be no other investigation of CashCall’s conduct or potential relief obtained by class members for its alleged violations of their privacy rights. [Slip op. at 34.] “Neither the reasoning nor the result in First American [146 Cal.App.4th 1564 (2007)] persuades us that the trial court in this case abused its discretion by granting the plaintiffs’ motion for precertification discovery of the identities of class members. Rather, we conclude the trial court, in applying the Parris balancing test, did not abuse its discretion.” [CashCall, Slip op. at 34-35.]

Several district court decisions also overwhelmingly reject Defendant’s privacy objection. In fact, the federal courts appear to have determined that an “opt out notice” is not even necessary. Instead, protective orders have been deemed to safeguard employees’ privacy rights. For example, in Putnam v. Eli Lilly & Company (C.D. Cal 2007) 508 F. Supp. 2d 812, the district court granted Plaintiff’s motion to compel the names and contact information of hundreds of Defendant’s employees. Id. at 815. In doing so, the court “balanced defendant’s asserted right to privacy against the relevance and necessity of the information being sought by plaintiff” and determined that “plaintiff’s needs here outweigh the concerns of defendant.” Id. at 814.

In Putnam v. Eli Lilly & Company, the district court held that a protective order was sufficient to protect the privacy interests of the defendant employer’s employees: “This information must be disclosed to enable plaintiff to proceed; a protective order can strike the appropriate balance between the need for the information and the privacy concerns.” Putnam v. Eli Lilly & Company, 508 F. Supp. 2d at 814.

Furthermore, just last month, in Dibel v. Jenny Craig, Inc. (S.D. Cal, filed February 7, 2008) 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9127, District Court Judge Janis L. Sammartino upheld Magistrate Judge Anthony J. Battaglia’s discovery order mandating the disclosure of the identity and contact information of the defendant’s employees: “The magistrate judge’s finding that these California employees would have knowledge of relevant background facts, regardless of whether they were eligible to participate as members of the class, is not contrary to law.” Id. at p. * 11, fn. 4. Here, District Judge Sammartino also approved the magistrate judge’s issuance of a protective order before disclosure in order “to address concerns of privilege and privacy.” Dibel v. Jenny Craig, Inc., at p. * 12.

Similarly, in Salazar v. Avis Budget Group, Inc., 2007 WL 2990281 (S.D. Cal., filed Oct. 10, 2007), a federal district court applied the rules outlined in Pioneer Electronics and ordered the defendant to disclose the class members' contact information after an "opt-out" notice was given. Foreshadowing the Court of Appeal's ruling in CashCall, Inc. v. Superior Court, Magistrate Judge McCurine observed that "the minimal information Plaintiff requests is indeed contemplated under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ... as basic to the discovery process." Id. at *2. He also expressed skepticism about the employer-defendant's professed solicitude for the class members' privacy rights, observing that its conduct suggested that its "concern about the privacy rights of the potential class members is actually driven more by [its own] self-interest." Id. Finally, he noted the importance of class actions generally (as did the California Supreme Court in Pioneer Electronics): "[C]lass action lawsuits can serve a valuable social function in addressing the rights of the public. The voice of a class rings more loudly and garners more attention than a single voice."

Thus, under clear guidance from California and federal courts, the right to privacy does not prohibit the disclosure of putative class members' names and contact information. To the contrary, Plaintiff's present discovery efforts are being brought for the benefit of such employees, so that a fundamental policy of the State of California can be enforced. As a result, an amended response to Interrogatory No. 1 is required. Plaintiff is certainly willing to enter into a comprehensive protective order before putative class members' names and identities are disclosed.

In the alternative, Plaintiff is also willing to follow the "opt out notice" procedures, as explained in detail in the Belair-West Landscaping, Inc. and Salazar v. Avis Budget Group, Inc. opinions. Accordingly, enclosed with this letter is a proposed Notice to be disseminated to all applicable employees through an "opt out" procedure.<sup>1</sup> Please notify us within 10 days of your receipt of this letter if your client wishes to follow this stream-lined and efficient procedure, which has been endorsed by the higher courts.

Request for Production of Documents Number Three

This request seeks documents demonstrating Defendant's compliance with California's strict statutory and regulatory law on meal breaks. Once again, your client has alleged a litany of meritless objections to both document requests.

As explained above, PAGA does not contain any class action restrictions. Instead, we have been "deputized" to seek civil penalties on behalf of the State of California and SPHERION's hourly employees. Since the purpose behind PAGA's penalty scheme is to enforce California wage and hour law and provide the State with 75% of all civil penalties recovered, the Legislature has not included class action standards or restrictions in PAGA.

<sup>1</sup> We are also willing to discuss the sharing of costs associated with dissemination of the proposed Notice.

Furthermore, the records sought in document request number three are designed to streamline the present dispute and narrow the issues for trial. As explained by the California Supreme Court in the landmark Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. (2007) 40 Cal. 4th 1094 decision, the existence of written records demonstrating meal break compliance is the central article of proof in the present wage and hour suit:

Finally, we recognize that the primary purpose of the statutes of limitation is to prevent plaintiffs from asserting stale claims once evidence is no longer fresh and witnesses are no longer available. Because employers are required to keep all time records, including records of meal periods, for a minimum of three years, employers should have the evidence necessary to defend against plaintiff's claims. Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc., 40 Cal.4th at 1114. [Emphasis added.]

In Cicairos v. Summit Logistic, Inc. (2005) 133 Cal. App. 4th 949, the Court of Appeal explained the strict requirements of California statutory and regulatory meal break law: "employers have an affirmative obligation to ensure that workers are actually relieved of all duty" during each 30-minute meal period. In addition, Cicairos explains that employers "also have a duty, under [the wage orders], to record their employees' meal periods." Id. at 962-963. [Emphasis added.]

The applicable regulation addressed by the Cicairos court provides that "[e]very employer shall keep accurate information with respect to each employee including...Time records showing when the employee begins and ends each work period. Meal periods, split shift intervals and total daily hours worked shall also be recorded. Meal periods during which operations cease ... need not be recorded. [P] ... [P] ... An employee's records shall be available for inspection by the employee upon reasonable request." Title 8 CCR § 11050 subd. (7)(A)(3) & (7)(C). [Emphasis added.] Defendant's compliance with California's strict record keeping requirement is therefore a common, class-wide question in the present litigation.

With respect to Defendant's privacy objections, the district court in Hill v. Eddie Bauer (C.D. Cal 2007) 242 F.R.D. 556 recently ordered the production of the defendant employer's time records containing employees' private information, such as addresses, telephone numbers, and even social security numbers. Id. at 565. The Eddie Bauer court determined that the right to privacy was outweighed by the interests of pursuing wage and hour violations on behalf of defendant's employees:

In California, the right to privacy is set forth in Article I, Section I of the California Constitution. California courts have treated the right to privacy as a privilege in the discovery context, and, as such, have determined it is a right subject to invasion depending upon the circumstances. Thus, the privilege is subject to balancing the needs of the litigation with the sensitivity of the information/records sought. Here, as discussed above, the Court has found

plaintiff needs documents responsive to Category (3) document requests to pursue class action certification, as well as to prosecute this action, which seeks to enforce California's labor laws. Id. at 562-563 [citations omitted]. [Emphasis added.]

With respect to the purportedly overbroad and oppressive scope of Plaintiff's requests, we are certainly amenable to efficient methods of document production. For instance, we will agree to an electronic production<sup>2</sup> of a sampling of records falling within the applicable statutory period of October 2003 to the present. As explained in another landmark wage and hour decision, Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 750, the use of statistical sampling offers an accurate and efficient method of proof in these types of cases.

Similarly, in Eddie Bauer, supra, the district court reasoned it was well-settled that a sampling of Defendant's employees' time records should be produced at the precertification stage in a wage and hour class action:

Having determined that documents' responsive to Category (3) document requests seek relevant information regarding the putative class members that plaintiff require to pursue class action certification, and fully responding to these requests would be burdensome to defendant, the Court finds, nevertheless, plaintiff is entitled to responsive sample information. See, e.g., Miller v. Air Line Pilots Ass'n, 108 F.3d 1415, 1425 (D.C. Cir. 1999) ("[S]ome sort of sampling technique might well provide the appropriate balance between [plaintiff's] interest in data that is accessible and informative and [defendant's] concerns that the request be manageable."); Barrus v. Dick's Sporting Goods, Inc., 465 F. Supp. 2d 224, 231-32 (W.D. N.Y. 2006) (district court has authority to limit discovery in class action to a limit number of employer's stores or to a limited number of regions); Smith v. Lowe's Home Centers, Inc., 236 F.R.D. 354, 357-58 (S.D. Ohio 2006). (limiting discovery in class action litigation against employer to a "statistically significant representative sampling" is appropriate under Fed. R. Civ. P. 26)...Since defendant's approach seems reasonable to the Court, the Court accepts defendant's proposal regarding time-clock records and wage statements; provided, the sampling data addresses all the topics of Category (3) document requests. However, in the event plaintiff's experts are unable to devise some statistical analysis based on the sampling data, and opine they need data from all 1,800 putative class members, then plaintiff may renew her motion and the Court will consider expanding the discovery defendant must produce in response to the Category (3) document requests. At this time, the Court is of the opinion the <sup>2</sup> Since your client is required under the applicable regulations to maintain accurate time records, including records of meal breaks, we are assuming that such documentation is available electronically. Your client's payroll, employee benefit and tax obligations further support our view that such records are available in electronic format, as opposed to being maintained in hard copy format in warehouses throughout California. If you disagree, a PMK deposition of your client's officer in charge of California records management will need to be taken in the short term.

discovery as limited herein should be sufficient to allow plaintiff to move for class certification, and, based on the Court's equitable powers under Fed. R. Civ. P. 1, discovery will be limited regarding the Category (3) document requests, as proposed by defendant. Hill v. Eddie Bauer, supra, 242 F.R.D. at 564-565.

Accordingly, please inform us within 10 days after your receipt of this letter whether your client will agree to the electronic production of a random sampling of meal break/time records, in which case we will have our Economist/Statistician prepare a sampling model for your review.

In closing, please feel free to contact me as soon as possible if you would like to discuss these discovery issues further.

NOTICE OF RELEASE OF PRIVATE CONTACT INFORMATION OF HOURLY EMPLOYEES OF SPHERION
ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC AND NOTICE OF LAWSUIT AGAINST SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC

In September 2007, a lawsuit was filed in San Diego County Superior Court on behalf of all current and former hourly, non-exempt employees employed by Spherion Atlantic Enterprises LLC ("SPHERION") during the period of September 25, 2003 to present. In November 2007, the lawsuit was removed to federal court in United States District Court, Southern District of California in San Diego, California [Case No. 07 CV 2178 W (AJB)]. The plaintiff, Philip J. Martinet, ("plaintiff") is seeking to pursue the lawsuit as a class action. The class action has not yet been certified by the Court.

In the lawsuit, plaintiff alleges that SPHERION has failed to adhere to the requirements of California's wage and hour laws, as set forth in the California Labor Code and California's Wage Orders. Specifically, plaintiff alleges that SPHERION has not provided its non-exempt employees with overtime compensation for work time in excess of eight hours per day or forty hours per week. Plaintiff also alleges that SPHERION has not provided its non-exempt employees with uninterrupted, 30-minute meal breaks during work shifts lasting longer than five hours, and has not provided its non-exempt employees with 10-minute rest periods for each four hour work period. Plaintiff also alleges that SPHERION has not paid all compensation due and owing at the time of former non-exempt employees' separation of employment, and has not reimbursed its employees for work-related expenditures incurred during the course and scope of employment with SPHERION.

SPHERION contends that it provided its hourly, non-exempt employees with all wages due and owing, including overtime compensation and separation pay. SPHERION also contends that it reimburses its employees for all work-related employee expenditures. SPHERION also contends that it provided its hourly, non-exempt employees with appropriate meal breaks, and permitted employees to take rest periods. SPHERION denies that it prevented its hourly, non-exempt employees from taking appropriate meal breaks or rest periods.

The first step in the legal process is a determination by the Court as to whether the lawsuit should proceed as a class action. As part of the process, plaintiff's counsel has requested the names and addresses for SPHERION's former and current hourly employees. In the interest of protecting your privacy rights, SPHERION has not provided this information to plaintiff's counsel but has agreed to send you this notice so that you can elect not to provide your name, address and telephone number to plaintiff's counsel.

THEREFORE, IF YOU DO NOT WANT YOUR PRIVATE CONTACT INFORMATION TO BE RELEASED TO PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL, YOU MUST COMPLETE AND RETURN THE ENCLOSED POSTCARD NO LATER THAN _____, 2008.

SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES, LLC, A Delaware Limited Liability Company,	)
Defendants.	)

On March 21, 2008, the Court convened a Case Management Conference in the above entitled action. Appearing were David Hutch, Esq. and Derek Emge, Esq. on behalf of plaintiff; Brandon McKelvy, Esq. on behalf of defendant.

Counsel submitted a joint discovery plan. Since it was entitled "Joint Motion Regarding the Parties Discovery Plan," it is docketed as a pending motion. To clear the docket, that Motion (docket No. 17) is denied without prejudice.

The Court and counsel discussed the current state of pending discovery and the potential time line for the case. There is a significant discovery dispute with regard to the scope of class certification discovery. Following the discussion, it is clear that the parties have meet and conferred and remain at impasse. To address the issue, the Court sets the following schedule for defendant's Motion for a Protective Order:

1. Defendant's Motion for Protective Order will be heard May 16, 2008 at 10:00 a.m.;

1 2. Defendant will file and serve the motion no later than April 18, 2008;

2 3. Plaintiffs will file their opposition no later than May 2, 2008; and

3 4. Defendant will file its reply no later than May 9, 2008.

4 The Court will convene a Case Management Conference at the conclusion of the motion hearing
5 on May 16, 2008 at schedule the case at otherwise appropriate.

David,

Based on the CMC today it is my understanding that no further meet-and-confer efforts are required by the parties with respect to the present discovery dispute regarding pre-class-certification discovery. As such, we will not be responding to your March 19 letter, but instead will be filing our motion for a protective order based on the schedule set forth by the magistrate. I just wanted to confirm this because your letter asked for a response in 10 days and I did not want to give the impression that we were ignoring your letter. Please call me if you have any questions.

Regards,

Brandon

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

PHILIP J. MARTINET, Individually, On Behalf of All Others Similarly Situated, and on Behalf of the General Public,

Plaintiff,

v.

SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES
 LLC, a Delaware Limited Liability
 Company; and DOES 1 through 50,
 inclusive,

Defendant.

Case No. 07 CV 2178 W (AJB)

DEFENDANT SPHERION ATLANTIC
 ENTERPRISES LLC'S RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFF'S REQUESTS FOR
 ONE)

RESPONDING PARTY: DEFENDANT, SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC

SET NUMBER: ONE

Pursuant to FRCP 34, and all other applicable rules, defendant Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC ("defendant") hereby responds to plaintiff's requests for production of documents (set one). Defendant does not admit the materiality, relevance or admissibility of the evidence of the matters set forth herein. Discovery and investigation in this matter are continuing and defendant reserves the right to supplement the responses set forth herein and to present and rely upon evidence discovered subsequent to these responses.

DEFENDANT SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC'S
 RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFF'S REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS (SET ONE)

REQUEST NO. 1:

Produce any and all DOCUMENTS that YOU contend demonstrate the number of hours worked by PLAINTIFF, on both a daily and weekly basis, during his employment with YOU.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST NO. 1:

Defendant objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and overbroad. Defendant further objects to the extent this request calls for disclosure of information protected by the attorney-client privilege and/or attorney-work-product doctrine. Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: copies of all non-privileged documents to the extent that they exist and are responsive to the request will be provided.

REQUEST NO. 2:

Produce any and all DOCUMENTS that YOU contend demonstrate PLAINTIFF was provided with state-mandated 30-minute meal breaks during his employment with YOU.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST NO. 2:

Defendant objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague, ambiguous, and unduly burdensome. Defendant further objects to this request to the extent that it calls for a legal conclusion and for disclosure of information protected by the attorney-client privilege and/or the attorney work product doctrine. Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: copies of all non-privileged documents to the extent that they exist and are responsive to the request will be provided.

REQUEST NO. 3:

Produce any and all DOCUMENTS that YOU contend demonstrate YOUR California-based non-exempt employees, other than PLAINTIFF, have been provided with state-mandated 30-minute meal breaks from September 2003 to the present.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST NO. 3:

Defendant objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this request is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the documents sought by this request are irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the request is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and policies. This request is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions. Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently, defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c) forbidding or narrowing the scope of this request. Defendant further objects to this request to the extent that it seeks information protected by Spherion employees' right of privacy. Defendant further objects to this request to the extent it seeks disclosure of information protected by the attorney-client privilege and/or the attorney-work-product doctrine.

REQUEST NO. 4:

Produce any and all DOCUMENTS, PERTAINING TO YOUR California-based non-exempt employees from September 2003 to the present, that demonstrate how YOUR meal break policies are dependent upon a non-exempt employee's job duties.

I am readily familiar with the firm's practice of collection and processing correspondence for mailing. Under that practice it would be deposited with the U.S. Postal Service on that same day with postage thereon fully prepaid in the ordinary course of business. I am aware that on motion of the party served, service is presumed invalid if postal cancellation date or postage meter date is more than on day after the date of deposit for mailing in affidavit.

I declare that I am employed in the office of a member of the bar of this court whose direction the service was made.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

 Behalf of All Others Similarly Situated, and on Behalf of the General Public,

Plaintiff,

v.

SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES
 LLC, a Delaware Limited Liability
 Company; and DOES 1 through 50,
 inclusive,

Defendant.

Case No. 07 CV 2178 W (AJB)

DEFENDANT SPHERION ATLANTIC
 PLAINTIFF'S INTERROGATORIES (SET ONE)

RESPONDING PARTY: DEFENDANT, SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC

SET NUMBER: ONE

Pursuant to FRCP 33 and all other applicable rules, defendant Spherion Atlantic Enterprises, LLC ("defendant") hereby responds to plaintiff's Interrogatories (Set One). Defendant does not admit the materiality, relevance or admissibility of the evidence of the matters set forth herein. Discovery and investigation in this matter are continuing and defendant reserves the right to supplement the responses set forth herein and to present and rely upon evidence discovered subsequent to these responses.

DEFENDANT SPHERION ATLANTIC ENTERPRISES LLC'S
 RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFF'S INTERROGATORIES (SET ONE)

INTERROGATORY NO. 1:

IDENTIFY all of YOUR California-based non-exempt employees who are currently employed by YOU or were previously employed by YOU from September 2003 to the present.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 1:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and policies. This interrogatory is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions. Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently, defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c) forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory. Defendant further objects to this interrogatory to the extent that it seeks information protected by Spherion employees' right of privacy.

INTERROGATORY NO. 2:

State the total number of California-based non-exempt employees YOU have employed from September 2003 to the present.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 2:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees" and employees "employed" by Defendant. Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the interrogatory is unreasonably broad. Consequently, defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c) forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

INTERROGATORY NO. 3:

State the total number of California-based non-exempt employees YOU have employed per each pay period from December 2006 to the present.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 3:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees" and employees "employed" by Defendant. The interrogatory is further vague and ambiguous with respect to the term "pay-period." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant

1 further objects that the interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive.
 2 Defendant is a unique business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and
 3 divisions throughout the state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of 4 different contracts and policies. Consequently, defendant is moving for a protective order under 5 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c) forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

6 INTERROGATORY NO. 4:

7 From September 2003 to the present, have YOU maintained different policies
 8 PERTAINING TO meal breaks for YOUR California-based non-exempt employees that are 9 dependent upon an employee's job duties?

10 RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 4:

11 Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and
 12 calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt
 13 employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature
 14 because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements
 15 of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class
 16 allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably
 17 calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this
 18 interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated
 19 to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the 20 interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique
 21 business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the
 22 state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and
 23 policies. This interrogatory is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of 24 employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions.
 25 Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would 26 cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently,
 27
 28

1 defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c)
2 forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

3 Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: As to plaintiff and those 4 PC Technicians on the VSSD-NMCI project sharing his job duties defendant maintained the 5 same policies pertaining to meal breaks.

6 INTERROGATORY NO. 5:

7 If YOUR response to Interrogatory No. 4, above, is in the affirmative, identify all such 8 differences in YOUR meal break policies.

9 RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 5:

10 Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and
11 calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt
12 employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature
13 because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements
14 of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class
15 allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably
16 calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this
17 interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated
18 to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the
19 interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique
20 business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the
21 state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and
22 policies. This interrogatory is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of 23 employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions.
24 Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would
25 cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently,
26 defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c)
27 forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: As to plaintiff and those PC Technicians on the VSSD-NMCI project sharing his job duties defendant maintained the same policies pertaining to meal breaks.

INTERROGATORY NO. 6:

From September 2003 to the present, have YOU maintained different policies PERTAINING TO meal breaks for YOUR California-based non-exempt employees that are dependent upon an employee's job title?

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 6:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently, defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c) forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: As to plaintiff and those PC Technicians on the VSSD-NMCI project sharing his job title defendant maintained the same policies pertaining to meal breaks.

INTERROGATORY NO. 7:

If YOUR response to Interrogatory No. 6, above, is in the affirmative, identify all such differences in YOUR meal break policies.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 7:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. 1 Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: As to plaintiff and those 2 PC Technicians on the VSSD-NMCI project defendant maintained the same policies pertaining
3 to meal breaks.

4 INTERROGATORY NO. 8:

5 From September 2003 to the present, have YOU maintained different policies
6 PERTAINING TO paying overtime compensation to YOUR California-based non-exempt
7 employees that are dependent upon an employee's job duties?

8 RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 8:

9 Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and
10 calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt
11 employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature
12 because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements
13 of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class
14 allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably
15 calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this
16 interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated
17 to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. Defendant further objects that the
18 interrogatory is unreasonably broad, unduly burdensome, and oppressive. Defendant is a unique
19 business entity with numerous decentralized offices, franchises, and divisions throughout the
20 state that serve thousands of different clients pursuant to hundreds of different contracts and
21 policies. This interrogatory is an impermissible fishing expedition as it relates to thousands of 22 employees at hundreds of locations throughout the state subject to diverse working conditions.
23 Defendant anticipates that providing a response would be an enormous undertaking that would
24 cost thousands of dollars and require hundreds of hours of human labor. Consequently,
25 defendant is moving for a protective order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c)
26 forbidding or narrowing the scope of this interrogatory.

Without waiving any objections, defendant responds as follows: As to plaintiff and those PC Technicians on the VSSD-NMCI project sharing his job duties defendant maintained the same policies pertaining to paying overtime compensation.

INTERROGATORY NO. 9:

If YOUR response to Interrogatory No. 8, above, is in the affirmative, identify all such differences in YOUR overtime compensation policies.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 9:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the grounds it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence as the information sought by this interrogatory is irrelevant to the certification of a class of employees who are similarly situated to and share typicality and commonality with the plaintiff. 4 INTERROGATORY NO. 12:

5 Have all of YOUR California-based non-exempt employees received their pay through a
 6 common payroll system between September 2003 and the present?

7 RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 12:

8 Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and
 9 calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt
 10 employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that "payroll system" is vague and 11 ambiguous as it relates to plaintiff's putative class case. Defendant further objects on the 12 grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie
 13 showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely 14 to produce substantiation of the class allegations. Defendant further objects to this request on the 27 common payroll system.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

If YOUR response to Interrogatory No. 12, above, is in the negative, identify all payroll systems YOU have used to pay YOUR California-based non-exempt employees from September 2003 to the present.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

Defendant objects to this interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous and calls for a legal conclusion as to the identification of defendant's "California based non-exempt employees." Defendant further objects on the grounds that "payroll system" is vague and ambiguous as it relates to plaintiff's putative class case. Defendant further objects on the grounds that this interrogatory is premature because plaintiff has not yet established a prima facie showing that the class action requirements of Rule 23 are satisfied or that this discovery is likely to produce substantiation of the class allegations.
